"Free access to ideas and full freedom of expression"

James Turley Dean of the School of Graduate Studies addresses the Board of Regents last Thursday night in Gaige Auditorium. The meeting was held to let the public voice their opinions on the proposed "Alternative Route to Teacher Certification." Many RIC students spoke out against the plan because it does not necessarily require any teaching courses. Dr. Turley told the Board "This is a marvelous profession, don't ruin it on us."

Photo by John Valerio

New Vice President behind-the-scenes player

By John Valerio

Anchor News Editor

When Thomas Pezzullo was at the University of Rhode Island, he was involved in acquiring the schools first $1 million gift. The presentation of the money was done at a press conference held in the Governor's office, and all three of the local news stations were on hand to tape the event. Anyone who saw that broadcast would not have seen Pezzullo. That's the way he wants it.

'On the record, you couldn't tell I was there. If a historian comes along some day and tries to reconstruct the event, they won't know I was there. And that's the way it should be" Pezzullo said. "One of the pieces of business that goes along with this job is you're in the background, and the faculty, which are the real talent of this place, are in the foreground, they get their names on things, they are the ones who win and attract the support of the public. And after them, it's the students. If I'm doing my job right lots of pictures will be there and they will be success stories about students and faculty...achieving things.

Pezzullo graduated from RIC in 1964. He then went on to the University of Illinois, graduating in 1968 with a M.A. in Mathematics. He received his Ph.D. in 1971 in Educational Research from Boston College.

He was formerly the Vice President for University Relations at URI. He said that the two jobs were relatively the same, with the ajor difference being the size of the institution. "The job is very similar and everything is a matter of proportion" Pezzullo said.

Former RIC President Carol Guardo had used a different system for college advancement. Her system involved separating the department into 3 different sections. Pezzullo said that President John Nazarian has returned the department to a "more classic organization."

Pezzullo said that he doesn't think his department is responsible to make up for the money lost to the budget cuts. "I don't think we can do that. The budget cuts we looked at a year ago, and the ones we can for see are a lot bigger than what private fund raising gains could hope to make."

Pezzullo stressed that the college doesn't look for money, just to offset budget cuts. "Usually a college will seek private funds not to offset cuts in its regular source of income, but for enhancements, special scholarships."

Fund raising is not the main purpose of Pezzullo's job. "The fund raising is a consequence. Success in fund raising is a consequence of all the rest" Pezzullo

Pezzullo stated that the main thrust of his job involves alumni relations. "How well you work and relate with alumni will lead directly and indirectly to success in fund raising."

While Pezzullo isn't out to make news, he is here to let everyone know about the things that make RIC special.

Budget may shut out 300,000 students from loan program

(CPS)--Hundreds of thousands of two-year college students could be shut out of federal student loans next school year under the new budget plan, an education lobbyist warned in mid-November.

As many as 50,000 four-year college students also could lose their loans next year, he added.

"It's going to have a substantial impact upon poor folks," asserted Stephen Blair of the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools, which represents the private, for-profit institutions in Washington, D.C.

The five-year, $490 billion deficit reduction package, passed by Congress on Oct. 27, slices some $1.7 billion out of the most popular federal student loan program by creating rigid restrictions on schools whose students have high loan default rates.

The congressional action was spurred by concern over high default rates at some educational institutions and several instances of flagrant fraud and waste by disreputable schools.

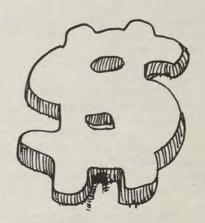

Blair, for one, estimated the new anti-default rules will cost about 300,000 students nationwide their eligibility for guaranteed federal students loans next year.

About 50,000 of them go to "traditional" community and four-year campuses that have default rates above 35 percent, thus disqualifying them getting more loans.

About 100 of the nation's total of 3,500 community and four-year colleges and universities have default rates that high, according to the American Council on Education(ACE), an umbrella group for campus presidents.

"You're not looking at a high number of schools," said ACE's Pat Smith.

The rest of the disqualified students go to technical and trade schools, some of which were blasted in September congressional hearing as unscrupulously arranging loans for students. The students, who used the loan money to pay the trade schools, then did not get the training or education they needed to get jobs that, in turn, could help them repay the loan to the government.

The new budget also tries to cut the default rate by requiring students without high school diplomas or equivalency degrees to pass independently administered standardized tests to receive loans.

Hoping to keep crooks from borrowing money without using it for school, Congress will now delay giving first-time borrowers their loan money until 30 days after the start of classes.

"The 30 days (rule) will hurt everyone somewhat," said John Blong, chancellor of the Eastern Iowa Community College system. The other restrictions, "shouldn't have a major effect on community colleges."

Others, like Snead State Junior College in Alabama, headed off any problems by getting out of the federal student loan program altogether.

"Too many people had taken loans out who shouldn't have," said Snead aid officer Betty Perry. when the loan program was dropped in the fall of 1989, the default rate was a relatively low 7.5 percent, Perry recalled. "It was just too much of a hassle."

"This (policy of loan restrictions) wouldn't have been our choice," ACE's Smith said. "But, on the other hand, it doesn't look disastrous."

INSIDE:

Debate Team in World Tournament p.3 Inquiring Photographer p.5

Black Crowes comes to Providence p.7
What's Happening p.8

Anchormen Basketball - good start p.11

Campus Connection

RIC Programming will be sponsoring a dance party, featuring a special performance by Sweet Sensation. The dance party will be from 9:00 pm -1:00 am, in Donovan Dining Center, with WXIN's Dave Anthony will be DJ.

Summer internships are available at the Providence Journal in the areas of reporting, photography, graphic design, and copy editing. Students can obtain application for these internships in the Student Employment Office, Craig-Lee 050. They should ask for Peg Theroux. These applications are due January 15, 1991.

The Rhode Island Blood Center will hold a Blood Drive on Monday December 10 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom. The Office of Health Promotion asks that you "Give the Gift of Life this Christmas", and reminds students that giving blood doesn't hurt and they get free juice and cookies, and a chance to lie down. They recommend that students eat before giving blood.

College Announces Winter Commencement Schedule

Winter Commencement is scheduled for Sunday, January 20th at 2 p.m. in Roberts Auditorium. January degree candidates can expect to receive information from the Commencement Office in the mail at the end of this week. Information on regalia for Commencement will be mailed out by the Campus Store very soon.

The commencement ceremony will be followed by a reception for the degree candidates and their guests, starting at approximately 3:30 p.m., in Donovan Dining Center.

International StudentAssociation to hold events

The VISA, the international student association, has announced its plans for the month of December.

On Thursday December 6th, a video and pizza evening will be held in Craig Lee 255 at 7 p.m.

On Friday December 14th, VISA will host a Christmas party in the Faculty Center at 7 p.m. All are welcome, and any contributions of food would be gratefully received.

VISA is affiliated to the Office of International Students situated in the Faculty Center. Dr. Audrey Olmsted acts as the group's advisor, and may be contacted in person at this office, or at

Opie Carpenter Memorial Toy Drive Set

This Christmas, get into the spirit, and give a little of your own good fortune. The Opie Carpenter Memorial Committee, in cooperation with the Smith Hill Center, is looking for the donation of new toys for sixty needy children between the ages of two and twelve. The toys should be safe and of a non-violent nature. They can be dropped off at the Chaplain's Office, Student Union room 300 or Student Union room 314, and in the dorms, at either the front desks or at the Central Desk. The Toy Drive ends December 12. Please, a few dollars may not make much difference in your Christmas plans, but it could mean the world to a small boy or girl. No child should have to wake to an empty tree on Christmas Day.

We need you. WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

Picasso's Pizza

Winner of the 1989-1990 Rhode Island College Best Tasting Pizza Contest

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK FREE DELIVERY

One Cheese & Pepperoni Pizza 8 Large Slices

$4.99

Dorm Room Special

2 Cheese & Pepperoni Pizzas 16 Large slices ONLY

$9.95

On Campus Delivery Only

(401)353-4666

Canadian, local officials to discuss prison sentencing, overcrowding

Province of Quebec cosponsoring RIC Justice Studies colloquium

Two Canadian researchers on the subject of prison sentencing will join three local officials concerned with prison overcrowding in Rhode Island for the Rhode Island College Justice Studies fall colloquium Wednesday, December 5.

Open to the public free of charge, the colloquium- entitled "Sentencing and Prison Overcrowding: The Dilemma"-will run from 12:30 to 2 p.m. in Gaige Hall auditorium.

Prof. Jean-Paul Brodeur of the Centre Internationale de Criminologie at the University of Montreal, and Prof. Pierre Tremblay of the Department of Sociology at McGill University, will make presentations.

McGill's Tremblay has conducted surveys of the Quebec and Canadian population to gauge public and professional attitudes concerning sentence length and severity.

Montreal's Brodeur was director of research for the recent Canadian Sentencing Commission.

"Both have conducted significant and extensive research in the area of public demands for stiffer sentencing and prison overcrowding," says Pamela Irving-Jackson, director of the RIC Justice Studies program.

A panel comprised of Donal Ventetuolo, acting director of the state Adult Correctional Institutions; attorney J. Michael Keating Jr., the court-appointed special master reviewing Rhode Island's prison overcrowding; and state Rep. Linda J. Kushner of

The Anchor

Established 1928

Editors
Co-Executive:Bob Carney

Donna Theroux
News:John Valerio
Production:Donna Theroux
Graphics:David Lineberger
Copy:Jennifer Hazard
Arts&Entertainment:Margaret Gordon
Sports:Kristen Del Bonis

Sports:Kristen Del Bonis Advertising:Tony Ramos Managing:Stacey Levett Business:Doug Gregoire Photography:Jeff Damiano

Public Relations:

Manager:Paula Ranucci

Staff Writers:

Christine Beebe,
Marc Brocato, Marc C. Bouchard,
Belinha DeAbreu, Tannalyn Carroll,
Joan Dansereau, Chris Fagan,
Gina Giorgio, Kim Grant,
Michael G. Guernon,
Margaret Hennessey Kristen Keach

Margaret Hennessey,Kristen Keach, Lynda Michael,Hugh Minor, Patricia Pratt

Staff Photographers:

Patricia Coccio, Hollie Dufresne, David B. Efros, Jennifer Howard, Michelle Irons, Jen Kessler, Frank Kim, Michelle LaBrie, Lynda Michael, Dino Soscia, Ellen Swanson

> Advertising Assistants: John Theroux, Andy Cohan

Graphics Staff:
Kim Pierce
Faculty Advisor:
Dr. Moyne Cubbage
Professional Advisor:
John Granatino

Editoral decisions for the Anchor are made by the majority vote of its student editorial board. No form of censorship will be imposed. Any material found to be unsuitable or unacceptable in the board's opinion will not be published.

The Anchor is located on the Third Floor of theStudent Union, Room 308 456-8280

VITALE'S

Clothing & Tailoring LATEST FASHION IN MEN'S WEAR

Come & See Latest Styles 20% off any purchase with this coupon 1255 Chalkstone Ave.

Prov. R.I. 02908

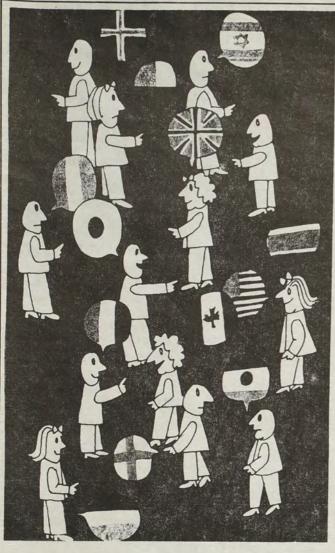

Tel. 861-0679 Hours: 8:30am-5:30pm

Providence, who has made sentencing and corrections issues a priority in her legislative work, then will discuss issues related to local and national sentencing and prison overcrowding, says Professor Jackson, who chairs the department.

Darek Niklas, assistant professor of sociology at RIC and former senior research analyst for the Massachusetts correctional system, will serve as moderator.

The colloquium is being sponsored by the RIC Lectures Committee and the government of the Province of Quebec.

The RIC Justice Studies program is a collaborative effort of the departments of sociology, political science, anthropology, philosophy and psychology.

Internationalism at its BEST

ALGER 206 X8273

Debate Team to Send Two Teams to World Tournament

The Rhode Island College Debate Team was one of a very small group of collegiate debating organizations invited to send two teams to the World Cup Debate Tournament to be held January 3-7, 1991, at the University of Toronto in Canada. This annual invitational event, the most prestigious English language debating tournament, is rotating among sites in North America, Britain, Australia, and New Zealand and attracts teams from all over the world. Most of the invited colleges and universities from North America will be restricted to one two person team in the 1991 tournament, but a very few teams with exceptionally strong organizations and excellent records are invited to send two, and RIC has qualified.

Since last year's World Cup Tournament, which was held in Glasgow, Scotland, the Debate council has racked up an impressive record of consistently high performance, including a second place finish at Brown University, third place team at Claremont College, California, and Providence College, and trophies for high rankings at Cornell University, Fordham, University, Mt. Holyoke College, and Wesleyan University. Members of the Debate Council have also won a large number of trophies for individual speaking awards. Trophies are awarded to no more than ten of the top teams or individual speakers at parliamentary debate tournaments which usually attract between one hundred and four hundred participants.

Entrants in the World Cup Tournament will be selected from trophy winners from this semester's competition which will conclude at the Bates College Tournament to be held December 6-7. Thus far trophy winners include Richard Berger, Dylan Costa, Jeffrey Fiedler, John Geoghegan, Heidi Lamb, Ray McMahon, and Paul Spameni. The Coach of the Debate Council is Dr. Audrey Olmsted of the Department of Communications and Theatre.

every tuesday night in the coffeeground 9:00pm admission is free!

this week featuring: Fuzek-Rossoni MINTIME

Every Wednesday 12:00pm-1:00pm in Donovan Dining Center Admission is free

COME

EVERY MONDAY NIGHT IN THE COFFEEGROUND

ADMISSION IS FREE!

HOSTED BY ED DELGRANDE FEATURING THREE BOSTON COMEDIANS FROM 9PM 'TIL THE LAUGHS STOP!

Sponsored by Rhode Island College Programming

Campus crime wave brings changes in college police forces

Arming cops'A logical step;' But some students 'Don't see any reason'

(CPS)--First there seemed to be a terrible change in campus crime nationwide.

Now, not so slowly, campuses are changing the way they're defending themselves against crime.

In recent months schools have hired more officers, started more sophisticated training programs, expanded their arrests powers and, most controversial of all, begun to arm their people with guns.

Letting campus police carry guns is "a logical step to provide better service," maintained John McGinnis, head of security at Marquette University in Milwaukee, whose unarmed officers currently are fighting to become commissioned by the state and thus qualified to carry guns.

On the other hand, many students at Millersville University of Pennsylvania, where a debate to arm officers has been raging for years, "don't see any reason for (campus) police to have guns," reported Dough Killough, a member of Millersville's student government.

Nevertheless, scores of schools are considering it.

The State University of New York system, the University of Michigan, California University of Pennsylvania, Millersville, Marquette and Mesa State College all have considered whether to commission their officers and allow them to carry guns this year.

Part of the reason campus police want more power comes from an increased use of weapons in crimes on college campuses, said John Carpenter, public safety officer for San Diego State University and a former president of the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators (IACLEA).

"We have an arsenal here" of arms confiscated from campus criminals, Carpenter said. Moreover, Carpenter added, "it's really frustrating" for college police who don't have the power to arrest criminals, or carry a gun, yet still must confront serious crimes on campus.

There has indeed been an uncanny series of major league crimes for campus officers to battle this fall.

Since the (still-unsolved) murders of five students in Gainesville, Fla., in late August, campus cops have had to face arson, frightening riots, murders, assaults and other felonies at Lock Haven University, the State University of New York at Buffalo, Delaware State college, and universities of Illinois-Urbana, and California at Berkeley.

"Most colleges and universities can't control whom the bad people are, and whether they come on campus," observed Richard Leonard, security chief at Oakland University in Michigan, where police have carried guns for 20 years.

It's been 13 years, Leonard added, since a campus officer at Oakland "had to discharge a weapon in enforcing the law."

"It's good they are carrying guns," affirmed Oakland student Amy Nida. "It makes the students feel safer."

But 30 minutes away at the University of Michigan, 250 students in September protested UM's decision to arm its police officers.

Students "aren't knowledgeable about what commissioning entails," claimed John Serpe, student body president at Marquette, where the campus is divided over a proposal to give their police more powers.

Similarly, about 49 percent of the students at Millersville State said they opposed a campus police proposal to carry guns, citing worries that guns could lead to tragic accidents and that there wasn't enough serious crime to warrant firearms.

In a poll by the Snapper, Millersville's student paper, 45 percent of the students supported the proposal. They gave reasons such as self defense and an increase in violent crime on campus.

"A student asked, 'how can you protect us when you can't even protect yourselves?" said Millersville police director Wayne Silcox in explaining why his department wants guns.

Silcox said campus officers have been reintroducing the proposal each year since 1986, when a student was stabbed by an assailant.

Unlike many other schools this fall, however, Millersville decided not to adopt guns.

"A small majority (of the campus) would rather not" have armed police on campus, explained President Dr. Joseph Caputo in turning down the proposal in September.

But campus police argue they don't have the tools or powers they need to battle the current crime wave.

"You've got to give (campus police) the equipment to enforce the law," said San Diego's Carpenter.

Even at an urban campus like Marquette, police don't have arrest powers. They can hold suspects until Milwaukee police can arrive to make an arrest.

"If they are law enforcement officers and requisite training is offered, then they should be armed," asserts David Stormer, president of IACLEA.

Whether a campus security force has the powers to arrest and carry weapons may affect who stays on the force.

In August, Lt. Robert Fey left Iowa State University because administrators would not allow campus police to carry weapons.

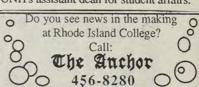

Steve Trilley had a routine which was much funnier than his face. Everyone had a good time-especially the girl in front of me-at Comedy Night in The CoffeeGround. -photo by Jeff Damiano.

Student charges racism led to his expulsion

DURHAM, N.H. (CPS)-- University of New Hampshire basketball player Antonio Steadman accused UNH officials of racism Nov.7 for expelling him after finding him guilty of beating and sexually assaulting a UNH woman in his dorm room.

John E. Lyons, Jr., Steadman's attorney, said the assault never took place, that UNH's conduct Board ignored evidence, and that officials were prone to punish Steadman because his is black and his victim is white.

"I find it extremely unfortunate that the case is being portrayed in that light," replied Barbara Bueggemann, UNH's assistant dean for student affairs.

Visions video lounge

- 75¢ DRAFTS
- 4 HUGE VIDEO SCREENS
- OPEN FROM 3-12 DAILY

Formerly Zabby's

944 Manton Avenue

Walking Distance from RIC

Big Discount on selected

Holiday

Merchandise

at

T H E CAMPUS S T O R E

Now until semester end!!

INQUIRING PHOTOGRAPHER

Do You Think Buddy Cianci Should Be Mayor? Why or Why Not?

"Sure! His personal life has no bearing on his effectiveness as a politician. Besides, do you blame him? Jackie Normand

"No way, he is the epitome of corruption." Amy Keefe

Yes, because the crime that he was convicted of didn't have anything to with the position he held. Also, the people elected him, despite his past criminal record." Joe Prete

"Yeah, the people voted him into office." Jim Gallagher

"Definitely not, he's a corrupt individual and sets a bad example for Providence." Alan Reilly

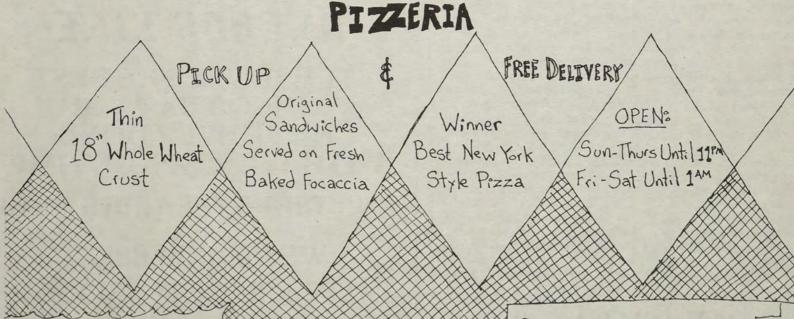

525 EATONST.

INTRODUCING

421-2484 FAST FREE DELIVERY

PROVIDENCE

COLLEGE

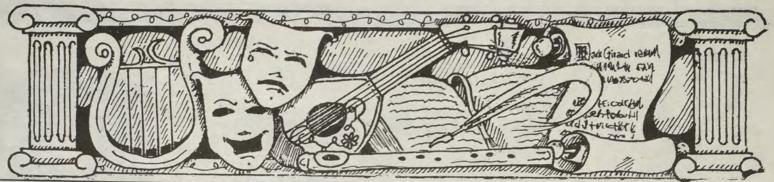

RHODE ISLAND COLLEGE

FELLINI'S PIZZERIA $1.00 off any Topped Pizza

Expices

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Temptation

Vaclav Havel's Temptation, as performed by RIC Theatre. -photo by Gordon Rowley

by Maggie Gordon A&E Editor

RIC Theatre's second production of the season, Vaclav Havel's controversial play, Temptation, opened Thursday, November 15, in Roberts Auditorium. Directed by Professor P. William Hutchinson, the production ran successfully for its five scheduled performances.

Temptation, written in 1985 while Havel was in prison, is the allegorical depiction of an individual's struggle to attain personal freedom within the confines of an oppressive institution. Havel, at the writing of this play, was imprisoned for his radical thinking and accusations against him that he was working against the government. He is now the president of Czechoslovakia.

The play was chosen for the universality of its metaphorical nature. It was accurately advertised as a "racy version of the Faust legend." Characters such as Dr. Foustka, played by Terrence Shea, Vilma, played by Heather Renee Chapman, and Fistula, played by William C. Forbes, mirror Faust characters Dr. Faust, Marguerita, and Mephistopheles.

Complaints, apparently, were lodged against the production of the play because it contained Satanic nuances. While Foustka's interest in the metaphysical and the occult is the catalyst for the action of the play, the focus is not on the occult, but rather on whether Dr. Foustka is allowed, by the institution, the personal freedom to explore such areas.

Terrence Shea, as the good Dr. Foustka turned evil, was strong in his role. Dr. Foustka is a man caught in a web of deceit of his own making. Shea's role, being the main character, was quite demanding, yet Shea was able to meet the challenge well.

As Vilma, Foustka's girlfriend, Heather Renee Chapman demonstrated what may be considered the best performance of the play. At first, the woman in love, then the woman scorned, Ms. Chapman's performance was an excellent display of talent, expecially in scores where she expressed anger with Foustka for his betrayal.

Fistula, played by William C. Forbes, is the evil that exists and that brings out the evil within Foustka. Forbes was superb in his role, bringing to it a certain amount of comic relief.

Other cast members in Temptation included Tracey Ann Gearing as the naieve, misled Markets. Chad Elwinship brought out the lovable side to the oppressive Director; Ray Borden as the yes-man Deputy Director; and Kelli Ritch stole scene after scene as the Deputy's silent sidekick, with her bubbly gestures and facial expressions.

While issues, such as the oppression of the institution, whatever institution it may be were brought out, the play dealt with many other issues such as betrayal, power and corruption.

If RIC Theatre's production of Temptation is indicative of its 90-91 season, this is indeed a season to look forward to.

A Girls' Guide To Chaos

The Growing Stage Theater will be presenting A Girl's Guide To Chaos on December 6,7, and 8 at the Little Theater located in Roberts. Curtain time is at 8:00 p.m.. Admission is FREE (donations are accepted) and seating is limited.

The play, which had an off-Broadway run, "tracks the sexual adventures, catastrophes, fears, and failings of three New York women in the throes of the great boyfriend crunch."

Playwright Cynthia Heimel, known for her columns in Playboy magazine and the Village Voice, "creates a trio of sharp, stylish, and witty contemporary

See Girl's, p.7

'Imaginary Subjects' of Seller/Smuda at RIC's Bannister Gallery

The works of Wendy Seller and Gail Smuda will be on display in Rhode Island College's Bannister Gallery in an exhibit entitled, "Imaginary Subjects" through Dec. 20.

"Seller and Smuda are artists whose works explore the realms of fantasy and mythology," according to exhibition curator, Curtis LaFollette of the RIC Art Department.

"Each, through her own strategy, deals with the boundaries between reality and fantasy, wryly hinting that there may be none at all," says LaFollette.

Seller's painted frames and enclosures have evolved from her experience as a marionette-maker, set designer, and sculptor. In her works, the theatrical presentation, narrative quality and illusionistic effects amplify the tension between the real and imagined.

Her award-winning works, as well as her site-specific environments, have been exhibited in Boston, New York and the Midwest.

Smuda's objects and assemblages combine images of the known in obtuse and ambiguous ways.

A disconcerting effect emerges as the accumulation and juxtaposition of otherwise clear and distinct images blend in a gestalt which implies the unknowable.

Smuda's works were recently selected for the exhibition, "New Art/New Hampshire", at Keene State College and were included in a show at the Currier Gallery in Manchester, N.H.

Lectures by the artists are set for Dec. 5 at 12:30 p.m. in the gallery.

The exhibit is free and open to the public.

Hours for the gallery, which is located in the RIC Art Center, are Monday through Friday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6 to 9.

PROBLEMS THAT NEED TO BE ADDRESSED ON OR AROUND CAMPUS?

CALL THE ANCHOR LINE

IT WILL BE THE BEST THING THAT YOU
HAVE EVER DONE
WITH YOUR SPARE TIME
AND THAT'S THE TRUTH RUTH

WHY DO YOU ASK?
BECAUSE TONY SAID SO
THAT'S WHY!!

456-8257

Campus Club becomes Crowes' Nest

The Black Crowes rocked the Campus Club, Tues. Nov. 27th. Pictured is bass player Johnny Colt. -photo by Jeff Damiano.

Jeff Damiano Anchor Editor

Tuesday, November 27 the Campus Club was THE place to be. Although the club has only been open for three months, they're already bringing in big name rock groups like Guess Who and Warren Zevon next month, and of course, the Black Crowes last Tuesday. The Crowes, one of the most talked about new bands, are currently on the club leg of their "$hake Your Money Maker" tour after spending the summer with Aerosmith and it seems they've learned a lot from the boys from Bean Town. They prowled the stage like cats in search of mice, drank vast quantities of Jack Daniels between songs (I know-Aerosmith is now on the wagon) and they play good, loud rock-n-roll.

This is also the first time in a while that the whole crowd seemed to enjoy all three bands on the bill. The opener, Burning Tree, is a three man set who let the lead vocal position go between the bass player and drummer. The band was praised before the show by Black Crowes lead vocalist Chris Robinson during a radio interview on WHJY and he also offered support in the form of backing vocals during one of their

The next band out was The Four Horsemen who have their debut album due out in February. If the live show was any indication of what they'll do on vinyl, it's not worth the wait. The first thing they did was turn up the volume so you couldn't distinguish the guitar playing and it left an annoying ring in my ears the next morning. The songs, which were about vulgar sex, included a cover song in which they changed the lyrics so that in contained more swears. Although the crowd enjoyed them, I spent the set searching for the club manager for permission to take pictures. I didn't find him, but that didn't stop

When the Black Crowes hit the stage, the volume was once again turned up but this was OK because you could hear what they were playing. They played most of the songs off their album, including "Twice as Hard", "Jealous Again", "Hard to Handle", and "She Talks to Angels". The guitar playing of Young Rich Robinson and Jeff Cease was enough to keep the whole club rocking until about one in the morning when the show ended and they jammed out to the Beatles "Get Back" for a good ten minutes. The entire band played a very tight set even when they would drift off in the middle of a song to let one of the members show what they have got for a solo.

If you missed the show, there's some hope. The Black Crowes are opening up for ZZ Top in February at the Civic Center but this won't be half the show that last Tuesday was. You just can't beat seeing a great band playing in a small club.

Girl's

continued from p.6

women, and in a humorous array of monologues, scenes, and comic essays reveals the 'can't live with love and can't live without it' nightmare that haunts "modern" romance."

A Girl's Guide To Chaos is a student production directed by senior Marilyn Brown, who, with six years experience with the Cumberland Company for the Performing Arts, has also held various roles in the RIC theater. Starring in the play are Barbara-Jean Medeiros, Melissa Gerrie, Sharon Carpentier, Ronald Cesario, Richard Nardella, and Kathleen Ann McDonald.

Auditions and interviews for performers, designers and technicians for individual talent awards in theater at Rhode Island College have been set for Saturday, Feb. 16, by appointment.

High school senior, graduate and transfer students are eligible for these awards, says P.W. Hutchinson, professor of theater.

For details write to Hutchinson at the Department of Communications and Theater or call (401) 456-8270.

You wanted it, he played it--Pete Cassani played your requests last Tues. at New Music Night. -photo by John Valerio

Research works.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR

American Heart Association

WELCOME 1065 Chalkstone Ave. Providence, R.I.

331-6401 SINCE 1934 Open 7 Days

GREAT ITALIAN FOOD! SUMPTUOUS SPECIALS! REASONABLE PRICES

Every Sunday: Broiled 1/2 Chicken Dinner Complete from Salad to Dessert $6.95

Learn German This Summer

June 23 - August 2, 1991

The Eleventh Annual German Summer School of the Atlantic at the University of Rhode Island in co-operation with the Goethe Institute Boston.

German will be the sole language of communication, and German life and culture the heart of this six week residency program of intensive language study.

You may earn up to nine undergraduate or graduate credits while living in the beautiful surroundings of our country campus, just minutes away from Rhode Island's magnificent beaches and historic Newport.

This program is ideally suited for anyone wishing to enroll in beginning, intermediate, or advanced German. Take advantage of this rare opportunity to participate in this total German language experience.

Contact:

Dr. John Grandin and Dr. Otto Dornberg, Co-Directors Dept. of Languages, URI Kingston, RI 02881 Or call: (401) 792-5911

It's Ladies Night at STIX! First drink for ladies from 8 - 10 is ON THE HOUSE!

Friday: FREE T.G.I.F. Buffet 5-8 PM Drink Specials & Pool Discounts

Fri. $ Sat. Party 'till 2 AM!

Open at 12 Noon Pool Discounts Sunday:

Free Live Entertainment w/ Don Levine Catch the NFL action on 6 TV's - free hot dogs during Pats games!

DOMINO'S PIZZA FREE.

CALL NOW!!

READY FOR INSPECTION

100% Real cheese. Pre nino's Pizza® Cal now! And in less than 30 down on pizza that can pass the stiffest inspection

Downtown 357 Hope St. East Side, Prov. Providence

PC-RIC Area 14 Fallon Ave. 861-1200 861-9800

Our drivers carry less than $20.00. Limited delivery area. ©1987 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

DINNER FOR 4 Large -One Item Pizza

DINNER FOR 2

JUST $6.95 And 2 Cokes

Additional topongs available at regular price. Not valid with any other coupons or others. Valid at participating locations.

One Item Pizza

DOMINO'S

PIZZA

DELIVERS*

FREE

PAN SPECIAL 12" One Item JUST $7.95

Welcome to December! Remember, here are only 22 shopping days left 'til Christmas! Go do your shopping tonight, or take in some of these

Monday, Dec. 3

Just when you thought Latin was the dead language:" the 43rd Annual Latin Carol Service will be performing in Alumnae Hall of Brown University tonight at 8p.m. It's free and open to the public.

Also, at Brown tonight, is the show Brownbrokers: Dearly Beloved." It's "greed set to music," as a couple decides to get married just for the wedding gifts! (Don't get any ideas, you engaged people!) It runs tonight through Sunday, call 863-2838 for

Don't be a grouch: Go see Groucho: A Life in Review, being performed at the Theatre Lobby, 216 Hanover St., in Boston's historic North End. All student tickets are $10 each (bring your ID!). Performances will run through December 20. Call (617) 227-9872 for

Tuesday, Dec. 4

Are you seeing things that aren't really there? Then, go to Bannister Gallery in the Art Center tonight from 7-9 p.m. to check out artists Wendy Seller and Gail Smuda's "Imaginary Subjects." This display showcases their work which "deals with the boundaries between reality and fantasy."

Say Cheese! Photographer Dorit Cypis will discuss her photography work tonight at 7:30 p.m. in RISD's Auditorium, Canal Street at Market

What's Happening

See Up with People "Face to Face" as they perform tonight and tomorrow night at the West Warwick Civic Center. Tickets are $8 for students, $10 for adults. Tickets are available at all Coventry Credit Unions.

1,2,3,4,5. Yes, 5. "Utamaro and His Five Women," a film series, will be presented tonight at the Brown University List Art Center at 7:30 p.m.

Wendy Seller and Gail Smuda, artists of the exhibit "Imaginary Subjects," now being displayed in Bannister Gallery, will hold a free lecture today at 12:30 in the gallery.

Go back in time tonight as Kate Dunnigan presents "Back to the Future: De-Industrialization in Rhode Island 1920-1940 at 7p.m. at the Slater Mill Historic Site. Call 725-8638. (As I understand it, there will not be a DeLorean in this one.)

Also tonight, the Student Film Society will be showing a film in Horace Mann 193 at 8p.m. I wish I could tell you the title, but I can't ...it's a secret, find out for yourself. Admission is only $1 w/ID -- the best deal on campus!

See past, present and future tonight in Trinity Rep's A Christmas Carol at 8 p.m. in the Upstairs Theatre. Call 351-4242 for details.

Thursday, Dec. 6

With less than 20 shopping days left until Santa comes, you'd better attend the Holiday Fair and Craft Sale being held today and tomorrow from 9

Ballroom. Christmas cards, ornaments, wreaths, jewelry, clothing, etc. will be

Island Moving Company, a dance company, not a moving company, will be performing at noontime at the Perishable Theatre in the Uncommon Fall Lunch Series. Location: 74 Dexter St., Unit 2, Providence. Price: $3. Don't forget your lunch!

Go to Africa tonight. Or, do the next best thing. go see New Bedford's Zeiterion Theatre's performance of Africa Oye! A group of 50 dancers, singers and musicians from all over Africa will perform their authentic dance, music and song. Students get a $2 discount off tickets costing $11.50, $15.50 and $19.50. Call (508) 994-2900 for tickets.

Friday, Dec. 7

Get on your toes! RIC's Dance: Company will be performing their Winter Concert tonight with Se'eva Cohen and Dancers at 8 p.m. in Roberts. Tickets are only $2 for students, $6 general admission.

Starting tonight at Trinity Rep. is Frankie and Johnny, a romantic comedy. Playing through January 13 in the Downstairs Theatre, you can call 351-4242 for ticket info.

URI Theatre will perform "Camelot" tonight and tomorrow night at URI's Fine Arts Center. Tickets are $6 for general admission. Call 792-5843 for Atwater-Donnelly, folk singers, will be performing tonight at 8 in the Common Ground Coffeehouse in Scituate. They invite you to come and songs." Tickets are $5 adults, $2 children. Call 826-3522 for info.

Saturday, Dec. 8

Don't be mystified, go to Mystic! The Campus Center is sponsoring a bus trip to Mystic, CT today. Departing at 10 a.m. and returning at 6 p.m., you will be able to visit Old Mystic Village, have lunch at Mystic Pizza (sound familiar?) and visit the Mystic Marine Life Aquarium or shop! Transportation cost is $5. Call 456-8034 for details.

Ho! Ho! Ho! Have breakfast with Santa today at Muldoon's Restaurant, 17 Mechanic's Lane in New Bedford. For reservations, call 999-1010.

You have the big picture, now get the little one and you'll have a matching set. Today through December 28, the Rhode Island Watercolor Society will hold its "Christmas Little Picture Sale" at Slater Memorial Park Boathouse in Pawtucket. Hours are 10-4; Sundays 1-5.

Remember reading C.S. Lewis' The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe a long time ago? Well, go see a dramatization of this classic, performed by the All Children's Theatre Ensemble tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the First Unitarian Church, Benefit and Benevolent Sts., Providence. Tickets are $6.50 adults, $4 children. Call 331-7174 for info.

Sunday, Dec. 9

Start studying for finals today, or: Make a splash, go see The Little Mermaid, being shown today at 2 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom. Sponsored by the Campus Center,

Request Line 456-8787

Rhode Island College - 600 Mount Pleasant Avenue Providence, Rhode Island 02908 - (401) 456-8288

1 Hard to Handle - Black Crowes The Way You Do The Things You Do - UB40 Something to Believe In - Poison High Enough - Damn Yankees Get the Funk Out - Extreme I'm Free - Soup Dragons Miles Away - Winger Stranded - Heart Tom's Diner - DNA featuring Suzanne Vega Miracle - Jon Bon Jovi Disappear - INXS So Close - Hall and Oates Hang In Long Enough - Phil Collins After The Rain - Nelson Signs - Tesla One And Only Man - Steve Winwood Hippychick - Soho Give It To Me Good - Trixter Can't Find My Way Home - House Of Lords Prodigal Blues - Billy Idol Traveling Riverside Blues - Led Zeppelin World In My Eyes - Depeche Mode If You Needed Somebody - Bad Company Money Talks - AC/DC Why Do You Think They Call It Dope - Love/Hate

Get 5% off textbooks next semester by getting CASH NOW!

That's right, If you bring your to the OFF CAMPUS textbooks BOOKSTORE, we will give you CASH plus a 5% discount coupon toward your already discounted, used texts for next semester.

Off Campus Bookstore 1017 smith street 861-6270 OPEN Monday-Thursday 9:30-7:00 Friday 9:30-5:00 Saturday 10-5

Rhode Island College Programming Presents

SPRING BREAK

PARADISE ISLAND March 9-16

$579 Per Person from Boston Logan Trip Includes...

- Round Trip Airfare
- 7 Nights Hotel Lodging
- Round Trip Transfers
- On Location Tour Escorts
- College Week Activities
- All Taxes and Gratuities Except $13 Departure Taxes

Lodging

PARADISE ISLAND HARBOUR COVE Swimming pool with sip 'n dip Bar 2 lighted tennis courts Shuffleboard, private beach, volleyball Color TV w/H.B.O., AC, Telephones

Intercollegiate Ski Fest Killington

CONDO LODGING, AND LIFTS $289 Per Person Tax Included

January 6-11

Program Includes...

- 5 Night Condo Lodging at the
- Pinnacle Condominiums
- Based on full unit occupancy.
- 5 day lift ticket, Six Mountains
- Services of On-Site Sno-Search Staff
- Free Lessons when you rent skis final payments due: December 7, 1990

For more info contact: Frances Duval or Bernard Treml in the Programming Office SU 310 or call 456-8045 456-8148

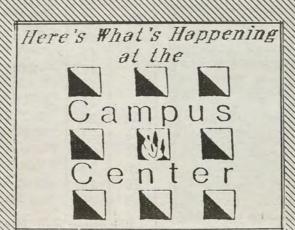

Deposit deadline Dec. 15, 1990

New Music Night with Fuzek-Rossoni Tuesday, Dec.4 9pm. in the Coffeeground FREE!!!

STRESS MANAGEMENT" with Doug Cureton Tuesday, Dec. 4 1-2pm. in SU305

Special Film Showing: The Little Mermaid Sunday, December 9 2pm. in SU Ballroom co-sponsored by the Campus Center and the Film Society

Bus Trip to Mystic, Ct. Saturday, December 8 bus leaves SU at 10am. bus returns at 6pm. sign up at the Info. Desk sponsored by the Campus Center

Dial-A-Menu X8293

For the complete daily menu

Donovan Dining Center Menu

TUESDAY Breakfast Egg McMuffin Bacon Homefries Lunch Sweet&Sour Chicken Steamed Rice Stir Fri Veggies Dinner BBQ Pork Ribs Cottage Fries Harvard Beets

WEDNESDAY Breakfast French Toast Sausage Homefries Lunch Fried Fish Curly Fries Mix Veggies Dinner Stuffed Sole Rice Pilaf

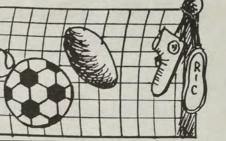

THURSDAY Breakfast Croissant Ham Homefries Lunch Chili Concarne Steamed Rice Buttered Peas Dinner Sliced Roast Beef Monte Carlo Sand. Mashed Potato Green Beans

FRIDAY Breakfast: Omelet Bacon Homefries Lunch Baked Scallops Au Grauten Potato Season Greens Dinner Chef's Choice

MONDAY Breakfast Pancakes Bacon Homefries Lunch Mannicotti Green Beans Garlic Bread Dinner Pork Chops Baked Potato Stuffing

SPORTS

Anchormen cruise past Roger Williams and Bridgewater, bow to Bryant

by Rosie Comforti

Anchor Staffwriter

The RIC Men's Basketball Season is off to a promising start. The Anchormen have a record of 2 and 1, after victories over Roger Williams College and Bridgewater State, with a loss to Bryant College.

The Anchormen were impressive in the season opener against Roger Williams College last November 17th. Their lead was 62-31 at the half and the team cruised to a 116-58 victory.

Senior Captain Chris O'Toole led his team with a game high of 22 points. Junior guard Scott Keyes poured in 17 points for the Anchormen, along with Mason Santos for 13.

· Mike Lawton and Todd Keefe each added 8 points for their team.

According to sophomore guard Titus Graham, the game was "definitely a team effort." The Anchormen played well on defense and had little trouble playing the type of fast break that has been stressed in practice.

The team was also aggressive on the boards, allowing them to score on transition, after many missed opportunities by RWC.

Against Bridgewater State College, RIC kept up the momentum by beating them 100-71. Matt, "the animal", Lennon walked away with a high score of 19 points, along with Chris O'Toole contributing 18. Sophomore guards Michael Kolesnik and Titus Graham lead their team in assists against Bridgewater, with 6 and 5 assists respectively.

Adam Remick is contributing to the Anchormen's success this season with excellent defense. The #44 center scored 15 points to add to the fire.

They weren't as successful against Bryant College here November 27. Despite a 45-40 lead at the half, RIC was outscored 50-34 in the second half and were defeated by the Indians 90-83.

Anthony "Dante" Mabray led all scores with a game high of 25 points. According to Dante, "we beat ourselves," because of crucial mistakes in the final minutes of play.

Mason Santos, who poured in 12 points, including two 3 pointers, also agrees that the Anchormen suffered a "mental lapse," particularly when easy shots were missed.

Junior guard, Bobby Sutton, adds that the team became "mentally tired" and that the several missed, easy baskets were a definite factor in the team's first defeat of the season.

It looked as though the Anchormen were going to keep the lead on the Indians, as they came out fired up at the beginning of the second half.

The team seemed to be ready to continue the momentum, however, the press broke down and as a result Bryant was able to control the tempo of the game.

Once the Indians had the lead, the pace of the game slowed, to much of the disadvantage of the Anchormen.

Time of possession and a new NCAA foul shot rule were also advantages for the Bryant squad. The rule states that after a team has ten fouls, the opposition automatically gets two shots for every next foul.

The Anchormens' record is 2-1, with their next three games on the road. They will travel to the University of Southern Maine on Dec. 1, followed by Framingham State on Dec.4, and will then travel to Fitchberg State on Dec. 6.

Coast Guard doesn't scare 'em!

RIC grapplers prepare for their next match

by Curtis Carlsten
Anchor Staffwriter

Deep into the heart of what is proving to be another successful season, the Rhode Island College Wrestling team competed at the U.S. Coast Guard Tournament, November 30.

Traditionally, the tourney is known as one of the toughest on the East Coast. The Coast Guard Academy has the respect of the RIC wrestling squad, but they are not intimidated.

RIC faced this challenge head on, as the Division III team competed against hard core Division I squads.

"I feel good going into the tournament," said 118 pounder Jamie Marden. "If you show your stuff there, you can compete with anyone," said the sophomore, as he echoed the sentiments of everyone on the team.

The team has been preparing for this staunch competition, and is very eager to be out on the mat to prove themselves.

Coming off an impressive third place finish at the Cortland Tournament, just behind Div.I Cornell and National Champs Ithaca College,the Anchormen are proving to be a dominant force as a

See Wrestling, p. 12

RIC Anchormen suffer a tough loss against Bryant 90-83

Get out of my way! Matt Lennon (33) pulls down the rebound while teammates Ron Ashley and O'Toole break down the court against Bryant. -photo by Jen Kessler

by Chuck Santos Anchor Staffwriter

On Tuesday, November 27, the men's basketball team bowed to Division II rival Bryant College by the score of 90-83.

Last year, the Anchormen beat their interstate rivals, 82-80.

In the first half, RIC was lead by Dante Mabray who scored 12 of his 25 points. Intensity and aggressiveness kept the Anchormen ahead 45-40 at the half.

In the second half, RIC came out all fired up. With the crowd behind them, their intensity enabled them to keep the lead over the Indians by 9 points.

But Bryant didn't give up, as the Indians crept up behind RIC, to tie the score at 60 a piece.

Head Coach Jim Adams stressed that, "Bryant College did a fine job in containing our point guards by slowing them down, not enabling us to fast break."

Bryant went to 5-0 by converting two free throws and a layup to put the Indians ahead 65-60.

The Anchormen scored 6 straight points, as forward Dante Mabray converted on 2 points from the freethrow line, and a baseline jumper. Freshmen Ron Ashley tapped in a missed shot to bring the Anchormen closer, as they trailed by one, 66-67.

But over the next five minutes, RIC would only score 5 points as they had a cold spell. Bryant capitalized on the missed opportunities. RIC still trailed; the scoreboard read 71-83.

Senior forward Matt Lennon intercepted a pass made by Bryant, that lead to a bucket for RIC. They closed the gap with great hustle and determination, moving within 6 points.

Junior Todd Keefe stepped on the court with a three point shot making the score 80-83.

The Anchormen again held Bryant on their next possession, but the Indians stole the ball for a layup and increased their score to 85-80. Kevin Glode connected with a three pointer, making the score RIC 83-87.

The final score was 90-83.

Ron Ashley finished nicely with 16 points and 9 rebounds. Mason Santos, a junior guard from East Providence scored 12 points.

Chris O'Toole also hit the boards, pulling down 10 for his team.

12th year Head Coach Jim Adams stated that, "we missed a lot of easy baskets down the stretch, baskets that we usually make."

Coach Adams also went on to say that he was impressed with two of his first year players, Ron Ashley and Mason Santos. Adams is looking for Ashley to make a strong contribution to the team, along with Santos' ability to nail the 3 point shot, and play great defense.

The team's next home game will be a double header Little East Conference game against UMass Boston on Saturday, December 8, at 5:30 and 7 pm.

tournament team.

Highly skilled and intensely conditioned, the team always goes into competition with a tightness that allows them to pull a horseshoe out of their back pocket when the going gets tough.

But hey! Don't be mislead, luck has nothing to do with the grapplers' incredible success. Their bragging rights have been earned, with three straight N.E. Division III titles speaking for themselves.

What the team might lack in ability, they more than make up for with true grit and determination. The 'take no prisoners' attitude of the squad is more than apparent at dual meets.

From the moment the team enters the gym, circling the mat to the unofficial theme song, Guns n' Roses' "Welcome to the Jungle."

Looking ahead, the wrestlers feel that the Coast Guard Tournament is a great preparation for the upcoming match against Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI).

Wally DiGesse, a 167 lb. junior talks about the upcoming matches.

"It will be nice to see the D-1 competition to keep our heads up for when we go into the WPI match, our arch rivals."

There are high expectations for two RIC grapplers, Greg McLaughlin and Scott Carlsten, who both took home championship trophies from the Cortland Tourney.

"I'm hoping that I can keep up the same intensity that I started with. I don't want to peak too early, I just want to keep improving," said 126 pounder McLaughlin.

Two time N.E. Champ Scott Carlsten wrestling at 158 lbs, hopes to use this tourney as a stepping stone for himself and the team.

Domenic DiVincenzo, a 5'10" junior from Winchester, Mass. summed it all up, saying, "The Coast Guard Tourney is a great preparation for the WPI match. Winning that match will give us momentum going into the Christmas break, which in turn will help us to win our 4th straight title."

The Anchormen seem to be very sure of themselves going into the tournament. Scores were not available upon deadline.

Anchormen Wrestling

MEGA Liquors 961 Manton Avenue • COLD KEGS to Go • All Types of BEER 751-4148 Down the street from RIC

Gobeille leads Anchorwomen in season opener

by Robin M. DeMatteis Anchor Staff Writer

Yes, folks....it's that time of year once again! The Rhode Island College Women's Basketball season is underway. It's time for fast-paced excitement and plenty of action. The women started their season off with a win against Bridgewater State College, and a disappointing loss against Bryant College.

The Anchorwomen's first game was held at home on Tuesday, November 20th against Bridgewater State College. Once RIC took the lead, they never wanted to give it up. The women were victorious over their opponent with a score of 73 - 63.

Prior to the start of the game, head coach Ken Hopkins said that he "felt good, confident, and believed that the team will give it their best shot. Bridgewater is a hard-working team but if they play as well as they've practiced, they'll do well."

The game began with Gerene Boisvert, Robin Gobeille, Suzanne Head, Kristen Del Bonis and Ramona Foster as starters. At the half, the Anchorwomen were leading 40 - 27. Their lead remained throughout the rest of the game that ended in victory.

#30 Sophomore Robin Gobeille

lead her team with 20 points. Robin was on target, sticking four 3 pointers, along with three baskets from the field. When asked how she felt about the game, Robin said that "it was one hard fight down to the finish. It felt good to win our first game."

Ramona Foster, a sophomore forward poured in with 19 points, along with ripping down 11 rebounds

Tricaptain Stephanie Brown talked about the pressure of a first game. The senior guard said that "the first game is always the hardest and the team played a good physical game. The season looks promising."

The Anchorwomen faced their next opponent, Bryant College, on Tuesday, November 27th. At the half, Bryant led RIC 37 - 26.

Tricaptain Renee Walker led her team by showing her leadership on the court with 13 points. Jonette Walker was second with 12 points. Ramona Foster led the team in rebounds with 4 and first-year Kristen Lewis with 3 rebounds.

The Anchorwomen had it tough against the Division II Lady Indians. Shots that usually fall for the Anchorwomen didn't, making it hard to catch up to their opponent. With a good effort the Division III Anchorwomen were defeated 82 - 56.

After the game, Renee Walker said that "we played a satisfactory game and didn't put in shots that usually go in. Bryant played a great game ... they didn't miss a shot."

The Anchorwomen's next home game will be on Saturday, December 8th, 1990 against UMASS Boston at 5:30 pm. Come and cheer them on!

D'Abrosca and Fanala to co-captain RIC Women's Gymnastics team

From Office of Sports Information Ed Vaillancourt, Director

Head Women's Gymnastics Coach, Gail H. Davis, has announced that seniors Jill D'Abrosca of North Kingstown and Robin Fanala of Newport, will co-captain the 1990-91 squad.

D'Abrosca has had an outstanding career thus far. Last season, she qualified to the ECAC Division III Championships for the third straight season and placed very well in the New England Division III Gymnastics League Championships also. In that meet, she finished sixth in the all-around with a score of 31.60 and place 3rd on the vault as well as seventh in the floor exercise and uneven parallel bars. For the past two years, D'Abrosca has been the squad's top all-around performer in almost every meet and has proven to be a leader in competition and in practices, too

In addition, she stands very high on the college's all-time lists. Her best all-around score of 32.35 has only been exceeded by three other women in Rhode Island College's history. She has also notched the fourth highest vault score and has achieved the third best mark on the balance beam.

Fanala has been a steady performer over the past three seasons for the Anchorwomen. For someone who didn't compete in the sport during her high school years, she has done an outstanding job for the team. Turning in some fine performances for the squad at the New England Championships, she has improved with each season of experience. Last year, Fanala rose to tenth on the balance beam and 15th in the all-around in this exciting tournament. She was an Honor Roll student at Rogers High School in Newport, RI and is majoring in Elementary Education at the college.

EDITORIAL

PRESIDENT GEORGE BUSH

The Middle East and All That

Saddam Hussein, a ruthless dictator with a massive military funded and supplied by Western nations, is backed into a corner by the "rest" of the world, through sanctions and military buildup in the area. The U.S. and its allies are determined to make sure Hussein will gain nothing by its illegal occupation of Kuwait, by holding hostages, or even by withdrawing as a gesture that it wants a peaceful solution to the situation. Now think for a moment... if you were a dictator, and you did something stupid like invaded a tiny country, and half the world came to its rescue, and told you that no matter what you do, you won't gain anything out of it, and in fact, they might even make you PAY for what you did, would you give up very easily? Of course not.

Saddam Hussein is not only a ruthless dictator with a massive military, he is a ruthless dictator with a massive military from an Arab nation, which is such a completely different culture, that some people might decide it might as well be on another planet. Will normal Western pressure tactics work on such a man? Of course not.

President Bush has shifted his focus from "Let's defend our rich ally Saudi Arabia from that evil Saddam Hussein," to "Let's get it over with already!" The new offensive stance he has taken does not sit well with many people, but being impatient and doing things with little or no regard for the long-term effects is the American way. As much as most people want to avoid war, do you really think they'd like to wait a year or two to allow sanctions to work? Of course not.

The crises in the Middle East CAN be overcome without a single shot being fired in anger, but President Bush and the leaders of other countries are not willing to take a bold leap into the present by adjusting their thinking to take into account such realities as nuclear proliferation, a skyrocketing world population, uneven distribution of wealth, and cultural differences. And in this day and age when countries around the world are inseparably linked by communications technology and economic policy, it is very imperative that America's foreign policy has a major overhaul. Even George Washington warned against playing "favorites" with some countries, and shunning others, in attempts to protect our interests. He knew that that could lead to making bad decisions, decisions not based on the common good. And Einstein said that the splitting of the atom "...has changed everything but our way of thinking." Over 40 years later, we still haven't changed our way of thinking. When will it start? We can no longer count on our leaders to change on their own, it is up to us to prompt them. Ordinary citizens, especially those of us who are supposedly educated, must take the reins now, or we will continue to be, as former Pink Floyd leader Roger Waters sung, "passive spectators of the market dictators." Or we could wait and see how the Persian Gulf crises turns out, and maybe, finally, our leaders will have adjusted their way of thinking. Do you think that will happen? Of course not.

Letters to the Editor / Commentary

Letters to the editor must be received one week in advance of the intended publication date. Please limit length of letters to 250 words. The Anchor will attempt to print every letter received. Anything deemed inappropriate by editorial decision will not be printed. The Anchor reserves the right to edit all letters, commentaries and "Anchor Line" comments for space and libel. Submissions in this section of the paper, with the exception of the editorial, are printed on a contributor basis and do not necessarily represent the opinions fo the paper. All letters must be signed and include a phone number for verification.

On November 3, 1990 a great event took place on the Rhode Island College campus, an event that many thought couldn't be done. That Saturday, RICOR (Rhode Island College Organization for Reformation) sponsored Campus Appreciation Day, a day to "clean up or shut up." There was an exceptional turnout of 40 volunteers, including President Nazarian, faculty, staff, students, alumni, and members of RIC Employees Local 2878. Keep Providence Beautiful, a non-profit environmental group, contributed gloves and trashbags, of which 120 bags were filled and disposed of.

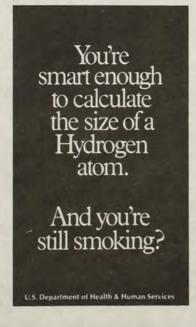

We started the clean-up at 10:00 a.m. and after only a short break for lunch (donated by Domino's Pizza) we continued until 2:00 p.m. Though our organization is only a few months old, with help from the union workers, we were able to beautify our campus in a short time. We were more than happy with the participation because of the well known apathy on this campus.

Since that day, the campus has looked like its old self again, but we had anticipated that. We have already pushed for the purchase of more trash barrels to be placed in areas where they are badly needed. Hopefully with these two projects completed, we will have made an impact on people, to think before they litter and to appreciate and respect their campus. It's a shame that such a small piece of the earth has to be filled with unnecessary trash.

With the help from more people like the ones who pitched in, we could keep this college looking its best. But we need people who care about their environment and who are willing to take a stand for it. I would like to give my deepest appreciation and thanks to all who turned out to make a difference at Rhode Island College. While their efforts may have been overlooked by their school newspaper, I hope they realize the significance of their actions.

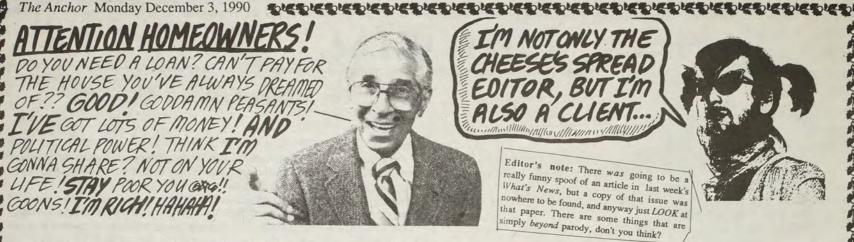

If anyone would like to join RICOR or if you have any suggestions of what else could be done for the campus, please let us know. You can contact either Danny Smith at 456-8250 or Liz Diener at 456-8322. If people can take the time to litter than they should make the time to pick it up.

Sincerely, Liz Diener, RICOR member

PUMPKIN SCULPTURE

WHY DO I BOTHER STRUGGLING WITH EXAMS. HOMEWORK, MY JOB, AND OTHER RESPONSIBILLY TIES? I SHOVLO JUST FOCUS ON HAVING FUN, 'COS THE GOOD TIMES WON'T LAST LONG! TO HECK WITH THE PAPER THAT'S OVE TOMORROW THAT I HAVEN'T STARTED YE FOR THE CLASS I'M FAILING EVEN THOUGH I MAY GET FIRED 'COS I'M ALWAYS TAKING TIME OUT FROM WORK SO I CAN STUDY I INSTEAD OF GOING TO PARTIES I GO TO 'COS I NEVER HAVE ENOUGH GAS IN MY CAR. AND NOBODY EVER ANYWAY!!!

POSTCARD A.

POSTCARD B.

DON'T DELAY ANOTHER SECOND!! GETCHYUR BUDDY CIANCI POSTCARDS NOW!!!

Cheese's Spread introduces the all-new, (almost) never before seen

BUDDY CIANCI POSTCARDS!!!

Celebrate the victorious campaign of Rhode Island's favorite convicted felon!

Whether you are a fan or a foe of the state's most controversial thug--uh, politician, surely you'll want to buy dozens and dozens of these lovely postcards. Send them to friends, relatives, business associates, people you don't know... just don't send them to Buddy--you don't want to get him angry now, do you? You won't like him when he's angry.

ITEM:	PRICE:		QUANT:	TOTAL:
Postcard A	$0.25 ea.	X
Postcard B	$0.25 ea.	X
GRAND TO	TAL:
Lineberger (Graph		chor,	money order payable Student Union Room R.I., 02908.)

Special thanks are in order for the people whose seperate yet collective efforts led to the creation of these postcards: Bryan Rodrigues, who conceived the original idea for the Buddy Cianci campaign ad campaign spoofs; Frank Shepherd Fairey, the genius behind the defacing of the Cianci billboard next to Sh-booms; and Wally S., for the "He never stopped smoking" caption.

Cheese's Spread indicated. All rughts reserved ents © 1990 David Lineberger

$3,43,43,43,43,43;

CLASSIFIEDS

For Sale/Rent

'77 Chevy Impala. New tires, new battery. $700 or Best Offer. Call (508) 336-5090

Mt. Pleasant, 3 1/2 room apartment, second floor. Appliances, heat and electric included in rent. Parking available. No pets. $450 a month. Call 831-2853

Help Wanted

Be Your Own Boss! I need aggressive, motivated individuals to participate in the ground floor opportunity of a life-time. Will train. Unlimited earning potential. 1-617-576-9756. 24 hour recorded message.

WANTED: SPRING BREAK SALES REPRESENTATIVES. Excellent opportunity to earn money and free trips, work flexible hours and acquire useful work experience. Call HORIZON UNLIMITED TRAVEL (800) 232-3999.

Activist.

A Better Planet.

NOW.
*Clean up Narragansett Bay

* Protect our nation's water resources

*Empower people to fight for environmental justice.

CLEAN WATER ACTION

Offers careers + best pay in environmental activism. Earn $17-20 K per yr. plus benefits + travel. 401-331-6972

Marketing Majors Part-time jobs available. Unlimited Income Potential. Call 8122 on campus or 508-252-6466. Ask for PENNIE.

Business/Marketing Majors: use your education now - get a head start on your future - young growth company seeks ambitious energetic entrepreneurs. Call Clark Enterprises at 508-699-7438

SPRING BREAK 1991 - Individual or student organization needed to promote Spring Break trip. Earn money, free trips and valuable work experience. CALL NOW!! Inter-Campus Programs: 1-800-327-6013.

Travel

SPRING BREAK 1991. The Hottest new places at The Best Prices. CANCUN, BAHAMAS and JAMAICA. Call Lawrence Finn -Moguls Ski and Sun Tours 1-789-4859.

Ski Week Jan 6-11 Bromley and Magic Mountains Package includes round trip transportation, 5 breakfasts + dinners, lift tickets and use of indoor pool, jacuzzi etc.. Call Robyn at Mrs. Fyffe's Travel 943-9050 for great rates!

Miscellaneous

Do you want fast - accurate- WORD PERFECT typing at a fair price? Call....TERRIE 941-8914.

GENERAL PRACTICE OF LAW including Criminal Defense, Workers' Compensation, Automobile Accidents and All Other Injury Claims, Divorce, Custody and Support. FREE CONSULTATION: LYNN COCCOLI, ESQ. 1543 Smith St., N. Providence, R.I. #353-5500.

ENTER the "1991 Miss New England Pageant" or the "1991 Mrs. New England Pageant." - Win over $5,000.00 in cash and prizes! Including modeling contracts -ages 13-32 Call Claudia at 944-6287

Improve grades and study skills, increase memory and recall. Call (913) 383-7919 for recorded information.

Personals

Hey Lobotomy, Get a haircut! Marianne, How's my hop-along buddy? Wardy - Turkey baby who are you trying to impress with those fake eyes? Hi nerd. C.T. - Don't leave us!! - L.H.B.

LHB - here's your personal to CT-206. I want your body. SP-106 - surprise! Bill, I'm mad at you - Die!!! Mike - where were you born? Hey Lobotomy - we love you!

Col - Hot tubs to Halloween, Beaches to B-rooms. I'm loving every moment with you. The Navy can make me move, but it can't make me leave you! Happy Thanksgiving! Love Mark.

To the MATE in English 328! Keep talking in class, your accent is bloody 'gorgeous'!

We have the perfect job for you. Just stop by the Student Employment Office at Craig Lee 050 or call 456-8032, and we will find the job just suited for you. A few of our excellent jobs are listed below:

Mother's Helper/Providence

Chemistry Tutor/Smithfield

#272

JLD 22

Housekeeping/Providence

#271

.....

Mico Support Coordinator/Secretary Lincoln #275

Clerical/Attleboro

#276

Childcare/Teacher/Providence

#278

On Campus Work-Study Position
Affirmative Action Dept./Clerical Assistant

David - Hi Sweetie, I Love Ya; Happy Anniversary and many more. Love always, Heidi

To PMS 3B-6: Nice fall down the bleachers at the b-ball game. Do you even remember? How about graduation? Will we be attending? This century maybe? xoxo

Lynn D. You are in my Social Psychology class. I think you are really cute. Would you consider a romantic dinner for two? I'll be in touch. Your Secret admirer.

Hi D.L. Sometimes I do and sometimes I don't. But it's really cute with that Spanish accent!! Thank for the encouragement I know without you I would not have done it!! You're the best. Lots of Love, ME.

Monster, where have you been? Your long lost big sister.

Hi Heather P! Boy do I miss you. I hope all is going well for you. Maybe we can get together over break! Take care. Jodi

John G. - Yeah You! Thanx so very much for the ride WED. You are the greatest! Your Milford friend.

Maureen - Don't fret honey. Whatever happens, happens. No matter what, I'll always love you - and don't you forget it. You're always welcome to run away to my house for hot chocolate! Just call J-I-L-L!

Hey, Coco sakedo, ru medjor compo quel cabelo antes di bu pa traz patrabadjo. Louie

Dianne, Roses are red, Violets are blue, You are beautiful, And I've fallen for you - Love Bill

Tiger, Tiger, Burning Bright, In the Forest of the Night...I Love My Tiger!!! Love Pea.

Jen, I hope that even after the long van trip, the constant bantering, the childish behavior, the babysitting memories and the constant knee bending, that we can still have the same strong relationship we had before. Whatever that was. J.

Sometimes I'm in my own little world. But that's o.k. Everyone knows me there.

I'm so glad the election is over. Now we don't have to suffer through reading those "Vote for...." personals.

Jeff W., I told you I would get that profound phrase printed. Know I'll never have to say it again. J.

Beware of blindspots when driving a mini-van, they can kill. Or at least give the other guy a coronary. Especially that blind spot that runs along the whole passengers side. Ask Bob, he'll tell you.

Bob, did you really think you knew whoever was outside the window? Jeff, I'll never know how you didn't explode. Laughter really is the best medicine.

Maggie The more you fall down, the more fun you have.

OMPLETE P
Roundtrip of or Cancun	Mexico.		959
Rounding to 7 Nights ho	ransters from	m cirport to	hotel
Welcome r	Um swizzie	posity at my	out
hotels. (No		Tanada M
porty.
3 Hort ciri	en with und	mun befor	bunch
Porodke b	donob
and activi	Mar. (Name	w		6
D Exclusive of	and Drume	the Poloc	e, Waterk	20.
E College w	eek progra	me by the	dahamas
louist office	on profession

1(800) BEACH 17

RESERVE BY JANUARY 1" AND SAVE $30.00.

The Anchor Classified Ad Policy:

Classified ads cost $1.00 per 30 words or les	Classified	ads co	st $1	.00 r	per 30	words	or	less
--	------------	--------	--------	-------	--------	-------	----	------

Date of Issue:	Date ad p	olaced:
Check one:	For Sale/Rent Miscellaneous	Employment Personal
int Ad, 30 Words or	Less:

Name (Person or Organization):__

Signature:______ Date:_

(1) No full names or telephone numbers will be printed in the Personals column without the express written permission of that individual.

(2) Name of person/organization placing ad: _

Status (check one) __Student __Non-Student

__Non-Student __Organization

*Phone____

SocialSecurity#_

Date of Issue:

This information is for verification and office use only.

Classified Ads-will be unacceptable if this form is not filled out completely.

Twenty-five free personals are given away each week to Rhode Island College students. Personals forms and depository are located at the Information Desk in the Student ...ion. Other classified ads may be placed, with payment, at the Anchor, S.U. 308.

LOUNGE LIZARD

LOUNGE LIZARD

PRESENTS

LOUNGE LIZARD

LOUNGE LIZARD

PRESENTS

RHODE ISLAND'S NUMBER ONE

COLLEGE NIGHT

CONFETTI

393 Charles Street in Providence

e

EVERY THURSDAY NIGHT

SON DE SON DE LA SONDE DE LA CONTRADA DEL CONTRADA DELIGIA DE LA CONTRADA DEL CONTRADA DE LA CONTRADA DE LA CONTRADA DEL CONTRADA DE LA CONTRADA DEL CONTRADA DE LA CONTRADA DEL CONTRADA DE LA CONTRADA

MUST BE 18 YRS. & OVER