

State House Lawn Site Of Class Day Exercises

Class Day exercises will be held at 2:30 p.m., Friday, June 13 on the State House Lawn. Margaret McCullin, Jeanne Santos, Vida Lightbown, John Kennedy, and Alice Hermiz, ex-officio, will assist Dolores Perrotti, Chairman.

Greetings by Dr. Fred J. Donovan, Acting President, will open the program, followed by reading of the Class History by Roslyn Toomey, Class Ode by Patricia Keough, and Class Day Oration by Florence Piacitelli. Alice Hermiz, President of the Class of 1952, will address the graduates; Walter Littlefield, President of Student Council, will address the undergraduates.

Preceding the presentation of Who's Who certificates, by Margaret Hagan, Miss Hermiz will present the Anchor to Naomi Sousa, President of the Sophomore Class. After the singing of the Alma Mater by the Seniors, John Kennedy will give the Ivy Oration and William Ferrara will read the Class Will. The class officers will then perform the traditional rite of planting the ivy. The Last Class Sing, led by Mildred Shepard, will climax the program.

Marshals for Class Day include: Lucille Bilodeau, Rachel Bennett, Naomi Sousa, Corinne O'Brien, Allison Hiorns, and Jeanne Carroll.

The following Sophomore girls will form the Daisy Chain: Lillian Santanello, Margaret Fontaine, Barbara Motte, Margaret Hoard, Doreen Moorhouse, Louise Roy, Mary McCauley, Patricia Miller, Carol Peterson, Janet Maddox, Joan Black, Ann Abbotmarco, Rose Lynch, Barbara Goodwin, Marguerite Price, Catherine McLaughlin, Marie Landries, Edith Anderson, Joan Carlson, Carol McCarthy, Lucy Foti, Estelle Carey, Mary Geoghegan, Claire King, Doris Greenhalgh, Carole Murphy, Emma Walker, Ellen Thayer, Jean McHale, Martha Lennon, Nancy MacLean, Lillian Connelly.

I. R. C. Officers
President—Joan Black
Vice-President—Diane Cartier
Secretary—Patricia Johnson
Treasurer—Jane Whitehead
Program Chairman—Estelle Carey
Publicity Chairman—Barbara Motte
Social Committee Chairman—Barbara Gibeau

Ninety-Eighth Commencement Exercises To Be Held June 14

Carroll Club Ratifies New Constitution

The Charles Carroll Club ratified a new constitution Tuesday, June 3, at a meeting in the Memorial Room with Phil Murtha presiding.

A committee consisting of Ray Fontaine, Dick Donnelly, Ed Tartaglia, and Anthony Petrarca drew up the new constitution which will become effective next semester.

Class Attends Vesper Service

The Senior Vesper Service for the class of 1952 took place Sunday, June 8, in the auditorium of Rhode Island College of Education. Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen, of the Temple Emanu-el, the Reverend Hebert W. Bolles, of S. Stephens Episcopal Church and the Reverend Norman LeBouef, of Our Lady of Providence Seminary participated in the Service. A Message to the graduates was given by Dr. Frederick J. Donovan, acting president of the College. The hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers" was sung by the senior class and the R.I.C.E. Choir sang the "Agnus Dei" and "Psalm 150".

An informal reception for the members of the Senior Class, their parents, and friends, was held in the Reception Room immediately following the exercise.

Dr. John H. Furbay, Noted Explorer, To Speak To Graduates

The ninety-eighth commencement exercises of the Rhode Island College of Education will be held on Saturday, June 14, in the Veteran's Memorial Auditorium, Providence. Miss Alice Hermiz, President of the class of 1952, will be in charge of arrangements.

The commencement address will be given by Dr. John H. Furbay, a leading explorer, author, educator, and lecturer. Dr. Furbay received his Doctor of Philosophy degree at Yale University in 1931 after earning his master's degree from Ohio State University and studying at New York University and the Sorbonne. He has been a guest speaker at many colleges.

Marshals

The marshals for Commencement were chosen, in so far as possible, from the members of the Sophomore class, the sister class of the graduates. The marshals are as follows: Rachel Bennett and Lucille Bilodeau, marshals for the faculty; Pauline Mahon and Barbara Spaight, marshals for the Barnard faculty; Mary McCauley and Nancy Welch, marshals for critic teachers; Jeanne Carroll and Allison Hiorns, marshals for the Class of 1952; Mary Molloy and Helen Robertson, marshals for teachers in service; Anne Beaudreau and Eileen Ward, marshals for master degree candidates; Lillian Connolly and Lisle McKinnon, marshals for the alumni.

Ushers

Edward P. Travers, President of the Class of '51, will serve as head usher and co-ordinator of affairs, and will be on duty in the Main Lobby of the auditorium. The following men have been chosen to serve as ushers: Raymond Chabot, Richard Donnelly, Aaron DeMoranville, Frank Bucci, Donald Driscoll, Santo Riccitelli, Joseph Alfano, Fred Wotton, Stacy Swift, John Sousa, Anthony Petrarca, and Alfred Silverman.

On hand to pass out programs and collect seat tickets will be: Barbara Rohan, Ann Votalato, Patricia Pagnano, Gay Blake, Marie Perry, Beatrice Legris, Barbara Finegan, Lillian Santanello, Nancy MacLean, Catherine McLaughlin, and Lydia Vestri.

Edward Molloy and Robert Smith will be the standard bearers.

Graduates

The following are the candidates for degree of Bachelor of Education:

English-Social Studies Curriculum

Phyllis Ann Cambre, Joan Ellen Cunningham, Thomas David Dunn, Raymond Christopher Durigan, William Albert Ferrara, Robert Firby, Raymond Leo Fontaine, Frances Murray Gallogly, Joanne Bernadette Hurl, Nicholas Jaroma, Joseph Anthony Keefe, George Godfrey Kenyon, Arpy Kinoian, Vartkis Kinoian, Helene Rae Korb, Ann Terese McNeill, Ann Marie McSherry, Edward Leo Monaghan, Donald Wesley Oliver, Florence Marie Piacitelli, Joan Frances Shea, Richard Aldrich

Continued on Page 4

Anne Marie Walsh, Donald Lyons Chosen As Class Presidents

The classes of 1953 and 1954 recently elected their officers for the next semester.

Results of the Junior Class elections are: President, Anne Marie Walsh; Vice-President, Edward Bresnahan; Secretary, Eleanor Gardiner; Treasurer, Dorothy Christiansen; Student Council Representatives, Helen Andry, Maureen Lapan, Jane Macioci; Social Committee Chairman, Emanuela Criscione.

Miss Walsh is an elementary major and a graduate of St. Xavier's Academy. She was recently elected All-College Girl, and is a member of the International Relations Club. Miss Walsh was Song Contest Chairman for her class in the Sophomore year.

The results of the Sophomore elections are as follows: President, Donald Lyons; Vice-President, Carol Peterson; Secretary, Naomi Sousa; Treasurer, Edward Lesiak; Student Council Representatives, Frank Bucci, Robert Rahill, and Robert Smith; Social Committee Co-Chairmen, Barbara Motte and Nancy MacLean.

Mr. Lyons is an English-Social Studies major, and is a graduate of LaSalle Academy. He is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, Kappa Delta Phi, and the Anchor staff. He also has served on the board of the Helicon and Handbook, and was a representative to Student Council this past semester.

The Freshman Class plans to elect its officers for next year upon return to college in September.

Associated Alumni Schedules Senior Tea For Wednesday

Catherine Harrold McCrory, '49, of Pawtucket is chairman of the Annual Tea and Reception for members of the graduating class given by the Associated Alumni of Rhode Island College of Education. The Tea will be held on Wednesday, June 11 at 4:15 P.M. in the College Reception Room. Officers of the Alumni Association headed by Mrs. Cornelius F. Sullivan, President, Miss Sara L. Kerr, Alumni Member of the Board of Trustees of State Colleges, Dr. and Mrs. Fred J. Donovan and Miss Alice Hermiz, President of the Senior Class, will receive the guests.

Miss Catherine M. Connor, Miss Gertrude E. McGunigle, Miss Mary T. Thorp, Mrs. Frederick J. Donovan and Miss Caroline E. Haverly have been asked to pour.

Ushers include the following recent graduates of the College: Ruth M. Ducharme, Mary I. Sullivan, Huberta S. Maher, Ruth A. Donnelly, Beatrice B. Donovan and M. Helen Leddy.

The following will act as servers: Dolores Baldani, Joyce McAllister, Doris Pendleton, Elizabeth Reardon, Marjorie Ward, Caroline Magnatta, Janice Slocum, Emily Fitzpatrick, Ann Hogan,

DR. JOHN H. FURBAY

ANNE MARIE WALSH

DONALD LYONS

Examitis

Eyes encircled by dark shadows, worried expressions and writer's cramp identify the underclassmen this week, for we are now deep in the throes of that common June malady — examitis. Despairing moans can be heard; nail-biting is prevalent. When the sufferers turn off the midnight oil to snatch a few hours of sleep, blue books parade through their nightmares. At 9:25 a.m. there is a frantic rush of last minute glances at notes. Now is the time when we bemoan the fact that our notes contain more doodling than factual material.

The Anchor has received an anonymous suggestion to print pledge sheets for all students to sign, promising to study early next semester and avoid cramming. Unfortunately no member of the Anchor staff has the time to devote to this worthy project for, haven't you heard, the literature exam is scheduled for tomorrow!

Tribute

It is with deep feeling of sadness that we approach the end of the scholastic year, and this year we feel an extra pang of sorrow. Miss Mary A. Weber, senior member of the mathematics department, is now retiring after many years as a faculty member of Rhode Island College of Education.

Those of us who have been taught by Miss Weber know how much her presence will be missed here at the college. Miss Weber has a deep personal interest in each student, and a sense of humor that will be hard to replace.

We, the students of Rhode Island College of Education, take this opportunity to express our gratitude for a job well done, and wish good luck and good health to one of our favorite professors.

"Well Done"

Fully realizing the difficulties and problems of producing a publication, we of the Anchor wish to congratulate the editor and staff of the Ricoled on a fine yearbook. The time and effort spent on the Ricoled were certainly not wasted, but are appreciated by all those whose college memories it contains.

Especially noteworthy in the '52 Ricoled was the arrangement of dance pictures into a silhouette form that explained the theme of each event. Placing of the words and music of the Alma Mater on the inside covers was another welcome innovation. The 1952 Ricoled is a yearbook that very successfully fulfills its purpose — to present a true written and pictorial review of the graduating class against the background of its Alma Mater.

While speaking of publications, we certainly cannot overlook the 1952 Helicon. Its cross-section of the literary endeavors of R.I.C.E. students was well chosen. Photography was tastefully used to supplement the written material. We think the entire student body joins the Anchor in saying to the Helicon editor and staff, "A good job well done".

THE ANCHOR

Published by students of R. I. College of Education.
Member of Columbia Scholastic Press Association and Rhode Island Inter-Collegiate Press Association.

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief	Corinne O'Brien
Assistant Editor	Joan Shea
News Editor	Beatrice Legris
Staff	Richard Stevens, Dolores Tormey, Walter Littlefield, Donald Lyons, Claire Lees, Santo Riccietelli, Anna Mae Choquette, Roslyn Toomey, Claire Finan, Nancy MacIntosh, Mary Shanley, Nancy Stringer, Dick Donnelly, Catherine McLaughlin.
Feature Editor	Barbara Finegan
Staff	Allison Hiorns, Shirley Szarko.
Make-up Editor	Mary Duffy
Art Editor	Henry Cote
Business Manager	Mary Zajac
Staff	Barbara Motte, Joan Black, Lillian Monopoli, Joan Little.
Exchange Editor	Ann McSherry
Sports Editor	Frank Bucci
Photographer	Anthony Petrarca
Faculty Advisor	Frank E. Greene

A Preview of Our Commencement Speaker

Dr. John H. Furbay, who will speak here at graduation, is one of the most air-minded lecturers on the platform today. As Director of Air World Education for TWA, he has averaged about 100,000 miles a year in the air, long since passing the million air-mile mark.

Recently, in a single day, Dr. Furbay spoke at a morning meeting in Detroit before a large audience, at noon he flew to Cleveland and addressed another organization, that night he flew to Chicago and appeared as the closing speaker before an audience of several thousand. From Chicago he caught another plane and slept in his own home that night in another state. Speaking in three different states on the same day and sleeping in a fourth is a record difficult to beat.

Dr. Furbay believes that modern air travel brings social obligations on the traveler. Can the races, religions and varied cultures of the world be thrown into intimate contact without creating frictions and antagonisms out of which may grow hatreds and wars of the future? He contends that this question can be answered only

Continued on Page 4

JOY (La Joie)

by George Bernanos

Joy is the story of a young mystic, Chantal de Clergerie, and her effects upon the people who comprise her father's household and her father's guests. It is a series of incidents, related only because of Chantal's presence in each one.

Chantal's innocence and goodness unwittingly force people to realize what they are themselves. For example, because of Chantal's purity, her father, a man filled with ambition to become a member of the French Academy who surrounds himself with friends who can help him attain this goal, realizes what a fool he has been.

Chantal's grandmother, whose madness was brought about by a dislike of Chantal's mother, is forced to admit that this madness is a form of self-defense when she is confronted by her granddaughter.

Fiodor, the family chauffeur, is driven to extreme lengths by Chantal's presence and his desire for her. His effects on women were usually violent, as shown in the case of Francine the maid who because of him turns out to be an ether drinker. Chantal, however, is an incomprehensible being as far as Fiodor is concerned, and the end of the story reveals to what lengths her sanctity has driven him.

Abbe Cenabre, when confronted by Chantal, is forced to admit that he has lost his faith. This loss of faith by Abbe Cenabre was the subject of one of Bernanos' earlier novels, L'Imposture. In L'Imposture Cenabre had admitted to Abbe Chevance, who was Chantal's confessor, that his faith was lost, and he feared that Chevance might have informed Chantal of this fact when the saintly Chevance was on his death bed.

The final action in the novel is the most violent. Fiodor, because he finds Chantal's innocence driving him mad, kills her and himself.

Joy is an excellent book. There is really no plot, since the whole novel revolves around a series of incidents.

The hypochondriac and greedy M. de Clergerie is presented clearly and understandably. His mother, the mad woman, is drawn extremely well. It is in his description of Chantal that Bernanos is at his best. Here among greed, madness, loss of faith, etc., stands one person who is above all, the epitome of sanctity.

To portray such a character as Chantal is no easy task, but Bernanos succeeds laudably in his work. It is through Chantal and the unintentional reactions that she causes in others that Bernanos proves himself to be an artist. Unless such a characterization was handled with the understanding and finesse that Bernanos brought to this work, the result would be ludicrous.

Fiodor, a relatively minor character in the de Clergerie household, but major in the development of the incidents, is also well described. The pages of the book seem to seethe with passion when Fiodor and his emotions are being described. Even though his final outburst is extremely violent, it is understandable in his situation.

Bernanos' descriptions can be summed up in a single word: exquisite. When the occasion arises, the descriptions are delicate and beautifully poetic; when necessary, they are powerful and turbulent.

The theme, that joy can be found even in the slightest task, is carried to just the right degree of intensity. If fifty pages more had been written, in all probability the effectiveness of this theme would have been lost. Chantal, upon whom Bernanos relied to present this theme through her infantile sort of ecstasy, carried the weight of the burden successfully.

The fight between sanctity, summarized in the mystic Chantal, and evil, found in all the other characters, is waged in an almost transparent manner. The ending, although abrupt, is entirely logical.

Bernanos is a perfectionist in his work. Characters, internal struggles, and external gestures are vividly brought to life in Joy.

D. F. L.

CRAMMING

To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Since September, I have watched the display of spirit which symbolizes the Class of 1954. They swept most of the Anchor points at the various college activities this year, not because they are the largest class, but because they know the principles of cooperation and comradeship. Their spirit is to be admired.

Congratulations to the new Anchor Class — the class of 1954.

A Freshman

To the Editor:

This June marks the graduation of the Class of 1952. As members of the Sophomore Class we wish to congratulate the members of our "sister" class, and to thank the Seniors for their help to us when we entered R.I.C.E. as floundering Freshmen. A strong bond of friendship has developed between us since then, both academically and socially. Best of luck to the Seniors in their future endeavors.

Naomi Sousa,
President of the Sophomore Class

From Council

Another June, another Commencement Week, and final exams have once more come upon us. For the Class of 1952, four years of college have come to an end; for the underclassmen, at least one more year awaits until they realize their goal.

The year 1951-2 may be regarded with varied sentiments. It had its moments of sadness, with the passing of our beloved President, Lucius A. Whipple; it had its moments of tension, with the R.I.U. merger proposal; it had its moments of fun, at dances, play, etc. The memories of these events, added to many more, are the story of four years of a lifetime.

On behalf of the members of Student Council, I wish to express warm thanks to the faculty, administration, and members of the student body for their help and cooperation, along with a wish for continued good health, happiness, and success in their future work here at R.I.C.E.

Respectfully submitted,

Walter C. Littlefield,

President of Student Council

Standing: Jack Beverly, Ed Bresnahan, Ann McSherry, Ray Fontaine, Norma Bloomer, Donald Lyons, Leonard Gaucher.

Seated: Dorothy Amaral, Joan Shea, Mary Zajac, Bill Ferrara, Roslyn Toomey, Catherine Davey.

Alpha Psi Omega Accepts Eleven New Candidates

Eleven members of the R.I.C.E. Dramatic League were received into Mu Rho Cast of Alpha Psi Omega on Monday evening, June 2, with Bill Ferrara, President of Mu Rho Cast, presiding.

Acceptance into Alpha Phi Omega is attained after having accumulated fifty points for participation in Dramatic League activities and successfully passing hazing, initiation, and a written examination. New members include Donald F. Lyons, Dolores J.

Tormey, Ann M. McSherry, Raymond L. Fontaine, Leonard Gaucher, Ann O'Hearn, Audrey Lucey, Dorothy Amaral, Catherine Davey, Jack Beverly, and Ed Bresnahan.

Following the ceremony, refreshments were served in Room 101. Donald Lyons, Ann O'Hearn, and Leonard Gaucher were in charge of the social hour. Professor Grace D. Healey is faculty advisor to the league.

Epsilon Elects Jack Beverly

Jack Beverly, a member of the class of '53, was elected President of Epsilon Chapter, Kappa Delta Phi, by a vote which was almost unanimous. The election took place at the final meeting for this year on Thursday, May 29, 1952. Also elected were: Anthony Petrarca, Vice-President; Alfred H. Silverman, Executive Secretary; Edward Molloy, Jr., Treasurer; Aaron DeMoranville, Chaplain; Donald Driscoll, Chapter Representative (National).

Dick Stevens, retiring President, presented his gavel to Jack, who conducted the remainder of the business meeting. Those appointed to positions by the new President were: Robert Sullivan, Chapter Historian; Joseph Parfenchuck, Orientation Officer; Richard Fay Donnelly, Alumni Secretary; Raymond Chabot, Corresponding Secretary.

R.I.C.E. Observes Memorial Day

Members of the faculty and student body attended a Memorial Day Observance in the Charles Carroll Club War Memorial Room on May 29.

Robert Firby, who arranged the program, opened the exercises with a reading from the Scriptures, followed by a special Memorial Prayer, the Our Father, and a moment of silent prayer. Raymond Fontaine, who was Memorial Room Chairman at the opening of the room in December 1950, and Dr. Fred J. Donovan spoke in honor of our four alumni who gave their lives in World War II—John Hetherman, Leonard Mailoux, Robert Byron, and Alston Lugden. Dr. Donovan stressed the fact that one can live nobly as well as die nobly for his country.

The Choir, under the direction of Dean Gertrude E. McGunigle, sang "Dona Nobis Pacem" and led the assembly in "Faith of Our Fathers" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Class of '54 Wins Anchor

Last September the Class of 1954 launched a campaign of amazing versatility to win the coveted Anchor. With the Husker's Hop, the Sophomores failed to register any points, but after a few visits to the Arthur Murray Studios, the Class of '54 received points for the Sea Foam Swirl, the Senior Informal, and the Cap and Gown Dance.

Being fine art lovers, the Sophomores gained thirty-five points for

Here 'n There

by Ann McSherry

So many bouquets are in order for so many people this month that I can only hope I don't run out of orchids before I run out of people. Maybe luck will be with me, however, and I'll break even.

Since the Anchor editors are such nice people, I've been authorized to give white orchids to Miss McGunigle, Miss Bicho, and the Choir members for their most enjoyable Spring Concert.

Orchids are also due to Walt Littlefield and Peggy Hagan for an outstanding job as Student Council President during their respective terms in office.

Onions to those who make it necessary to use a log book in tabulating over-cuts in chapel.

Orchids to Roz Toomey and her Ricoled staff for giving us a year-book of which we can be justly proud.

Orchids to Florence Piacitelli and the members of the Helicon staff, and all those whose literary contributions have made our 1952 Helicon second to none.

Orchids to those responsible for the very impressive Memorial Day Service, especially to Ray Fontaine who has devoted many hours to the War Memorial Room.

Orchids to Dr. Donovan for his inspiring leadership and commendable administrative work during the past year.

Orchids to Dr. Lee for her invaluable assistance during our training and practice periods.

Orchids to Mr. Waite, Mrs. Allendorf, Mr. Underhill, Miss Carlson, and Miss Wright, Senior and Special class advisors, who have borne us through four years of juggling schedules and helping us solve our problems.

Special orchids to Miss Mary A. Weber for her fine spirit of cooperation during her stay at R.I.C.E. Goodbye and good luck to Miss Weber.

Orchids to each newly elected officer of the classes and organizations. May you have a very successful term of office.

Since the seniors, like Red Skelton, seemed to have hogged the show, I shall close by giving an orchid to each senior. After four hard years of texts, tests, and the long hours at Tom's, I think they deserve it. And to all the underclassmen, from the seniors, come sincerest wishes for lots of fun, lots of A's, and lots of orchids to pass out next year. Yes, everyone at R.I.C.E. would have an orchid if I had my way. Bye now.

the Choir's Christmas and Spring concerts. The play productions netted twenty points, and a second place in Song Contest, thirty points.

The core of enthusiasm centered around the basketball games. Loyal rooters of the R.I.C.E. team, the Sophomores were awarded one hundred and forty-five points. In the final tally, the Sophomores beat the Freshmen by a ninety point margin in the race for the Anchor.

The Class of 1952, last year's winners, will present the Anchor to Naomi Sousa, President of the Sophomore Class, at Class Day, Friday, June 13.

Tentative List of Electives - Sept. 1952 - Jan. 1953

- Prof. Allendorf—Creative Dance
 Prof. Allison—Sources of Pleasure in Literature
 Prof. Andrews and Brown—Coeducational Recreation
 Prof. Andrews—Advanced Hygiene
 Prof. Brown—Theory and Practice of Individual Sports (Men)
 Prof. Campbell—1. Guiding Learning Activities in the Elementary School
 2. Arithmetic for the First Six Grades
 Miss Crompton—Arts and Crafts in the Elementary Classroom
 Prof. Greene—Shakespeare
 Miss Hanley—Child Care and Nutrition
 Prof. Healey—Story Telling
 Mr. Horan—1. Early Development of R. I. Political Institutions — the Charter of 1663
 2. Growth and Development of Industrial Democracy
 Dr. Keefe—Biological Sciences (Title not given)
 Prof. Leonelli—1. Methods and Materials for Elementary Science
 2. Astronomy
 Dr. Loughrey—1. French Literature of the Nineteenth Century — Romanticism
 2. Introduction to Philology — Part I
 Miss Marden—Meeting the Reading Needs of the Secondary School Pupil
 Prof. Meinhold—1. Matter and Energy: An Introduction to Atomic Energy
 2. Audio-Visual Aids: Part I
 Prof. Mitchell—Fundamental Concepts of Arithmetic
 Dr. Ross—Techniques and Methods of Determining the Health Status of School Children
 Mr. Sloane—Industrial Arts — Part I
 Prof. Thompson—(Title undecided)
 Prof. Underhill—College Algebra
 Prof. Wright—1. Cartography
 2. Research in Geography
 Mrs. Zurlinden—Teaching Elective in Science

Raising Prize-Winning Capons Hobby of Sophomore Frank Bucci

Have you ever been approached by a tall, curly-headed fellow who wanted you to feast on the delicacy of a scientifically raised capon? If you have, you already know Mr. Frank Bucci of Sophomore Four, known to his associates as "The Capon Kid."

The raising of capons has been Frank's special sphere since he was in high school. He began three years ago with twenty-five birds on his farm in Chepachet and started to raise them as a 4-H Club project. "It was just a hobby at first," Frank said, "but now it's developing into a profitable business."

Frank buys the capons when they are one day old and raises them—all two hundred of them—single handed until they are six months old. Being rather stunned at the fact that one person could attend classes and take care of two hundred capons every day, we asked Frank how many hours his "profitable business" required. "When they're small it takes about two or three hours to care for all of them, but when they reach ten weeks, I can usually handle them in one-half hour."

Frank at present is in the semi-vacation stage since all his "birds" are over ten weeks old. But still, Farmer Bucci has fences to build and coops to clean to keep his poultry business on a scientific basis.

After exams Frank expects—"If I'm well enough"—to add some eight hundred new members to the present capon family, making a grand total of one thousand by the time school re-opens. An ambitious project to say the least!, but Frank has an explanation for the sudden growth of his farm. "I'm shooting for the national honors in the 4-H Club and one of the qualifications I'll have to meet is a large number of birds." Besides the prodigious number of birds he must care for, Frank must keep records on each one and present these to the judges of the contest.

In spite of the work involved Frank, on the basis of his past record, appears to have a better than average chance of winning. A short while ago, he became a local celebrity by being judged high scorer in a poultry judging contest conducted by the 4-H Club throughout ten northeastern states.

In addition, he is the leader of the Chepachet Jr. 4-H, president of the Providence County 4-H Sr. Club, and won the New England poultry judging contest in which he was captain of the Rhode Island team.

Frank attributes his presence at R.I.C.E. to his early work in the 4-H Club. "Through the work in the Club I became interested in working with and teaching youngsters."

After graduation, Frank plans to keep up his farm and his work in the 4-H.

Future teacher and farmer, Frank appears to be slated for national honors and the distinction of being R.I.C.E.'s one and only "Capon King."

Hotel Empire

IN NEW YORK AT THE GATEWAY TO TIMES SQUARE

600 cheerful rooms, private baths—radio & television Adjacent garage
 Air-conditioned Dining Room & Cocktail Lounge Moderate rates
 BANQUET AND MEETING FACILITIES
 LESLIE PAUL
 Managing Director

HOTEL EMPIRE
 BROADWAY at 63rd ST.

COMMENCEMENT

Continued from Page 1

Stevens, Roslyn Marie Toomey, Dolores Josephine Tormey, William Joseph Welch.

Math-Science Curriculum

Catherine Ann Brelsford, Salvatore Campo, Samuel Joseph Cashman, Jr., Margaret Mary Ann Hagan, Oliver Richard Kinney, Walter Clifford Littlefield, Catherine Carolyn Panarello, Secondo Siniscalchi, John Joseph Patrick Talbot.

Elementary Curriculum

Dorothy Ann Amaral, Beverly Edith Bazar, Pauline Gertrude Bettez, Norma Frances Bloomer, Phyllis Annette Broburg, Doris Marie Clare Callahan, Maureen Ann Carroll, Claire Lucille Daigault, Catherine Inez Davey, Arthur Edouard De Tonnancourt, Gloria Lord Dobson, Constance Wren Doyle, Carolyn Frances Duggan, Arnold Wade Durfee, Isabelle Helen Dusseault, Mary Elizabeth Ann Feeney, Sylvia Bernardine Fiyod, Hazel Dean Flanagan, Phyllis Jean Flanagan, Patricia Ann Greene, Amelia George Hallal, Joan Marie Healey, Alice Hermiz, Clare Marie Hickey, Alice May Holmberg, Madeline Kalarian, John Joseph Kennedy, Patricia Ann Keough, Raymond Alphonse Lanoue, Vida Althea Lightbown, Phyllis Anne Logan, Audrey Rita Elizabeth Lucey, Irma Claire Maingot, Margaret Mary McCullin, Irma Rosalyn Moon, Jane Carolyn Moore, Stanley Frank Nawrocki, Dolores Ann Perrotti, Robert Thomas Pichione, Barbara Emma Ann Quimby, Claire Marie Rankowitz, Sarah Ann Reynolds, Anita Marie Romani, Selma Leah Rosenthal, Jeanne Avis Santos, Mildred Yvonne Shepard, Claire Patricia Silva, Martha Rose Smith, Ann Katherine Toole, Helen Esther True, Norman Eldred Tucker, Cathleen Ann Ueding, Anne Virginia Vilen, Harry Steven Westcott, Mary Helen Ann Zajac.

Kindergarten-Primary Curriculum

Dolores Natalie Abbey, Joan Marie Cavanaugh, Virginia Anne Cox, Dolores Natalie Forbes, Ruth Elizabeth Grady, Beatrice Lua Moorehead, Anne Ida Perlow, Ruth Workman.

Teachers in Service

Donald Hope Allen, Marian Jacqueline Angelone, Letitia Ellen Burnley, Caroline Amanda Burton, Clarice Bell Dixon, Beulah Greenshields Eames, Esther Claire Friedman, Ruth Hannah Haskard Gelatt, Dorothy Gill Charland, Evelyn Louise Graves, Louise Frances Griffin, Bessie West Haggerty, Dorothy Beal Havens, Margaret Catherine Holmes, Mary Alma Keavy, Augusta Louise Kenyon, Helen Reynolds Latham, Anna Marguerite Lenehan, Claire Hart Lennon, Donald Liebherr, Mildred Phillips McAlevy, Bessie Mintz, Louise Anna Morris, Catherine Clarke Mullin, Margaret Frances Nerone, Flora Evelyn McCulloch Oatley, Veronica Marie

RECOVERING FROM EXAMS

O'Connor, William Edward Sloane, Hope Andersen Saabye, Madeline Bogin Sanek, Kathleen Smyth, Doris Wilkinson Steitz, Margaret Helena Sullivan, Mary Dolores Sullivan, Mary Rose Sullivan, Vida Hambly Sylvia, Ellen Margaret Titchener, Cecilia Meagher Walsh, Mary Louise Willemine.

Candidates for the Degree of Master of Education

Mona Gladys Baker, Olive Compton Pearson Brittan, Leslie French Coates, Mary Madeleine Curran, Antonina Mary Dziob, Michael

Anthony Fay, James Edward Gilligan, Adam Anthony Imbriglio, Ambrose Francis Keeley, Michael Joseph Kenny, Hazel Grey Kenyon, Agatha Barbara Lavallee, Marie McGarry Lister, Rose Lupo, Helen Evelyn Major, Marie Gladys Mallory, Elisabeth Gibbons McCaffrey, Mary Theresa Frances Nester, Charles A. O'Connor, Jr., Frank Robert Saraceno, Elizabeth Alice Schora, Michael Securo, William Ignatius Swift, Alice Gabrielle Tully, Guy Raymond Varone.

A Preview of Our Commencement Speaker

Continued from Page 2

of the land. His lectures have been popular for years before New York's Town Hall, the National Geographic Society and many other leading institutions here and abroad.

Dr. Furbay received his Ph.D. at Yale University in 1931 after earning his masters degree from Ohio State University and studying at New York University and the Sorbonne. While teaching in a mid-west university in Indiana, he directed the excavation of a prehistoric mastodon in 1928. He was for three years president of the College of West Africa, Monrovia, Liberia, prior to the war, and because of his knowledge of Africa, the War Department called upon Dr. Furbay to lecture before some 50,000 of our troops preparing for the African invasion.

In 1941, he was a guest lecturer at the University of Hawaii. The following year he directed the Mills College Casa Pan-Americana and Maison Francais. Later, he was senior specialist on education in Latin America for the United States Office of Education, and was attached to the U. S. Embassies in Costa Rica and Columbia. In 1946, he was off to Ireland to carry out an educational project and catch the beauty of the Emerald Isle for a color film. For the past four years, he

by the educators who mold the minds of our children, that we must prepare them for participation in this new world community which the air-age has developed. "If the air-age is to bring to mankind a better understanding and appreciation of one another," he says, "we must begin now to develop those attitudes of mind which will make informed, appreciative travelers of our citizens. We will have opportunities to visit our world neighbors and to live among them. Let's learn from them and let them learn from us. Let's teach appreciation and let's not forget that we are the foreigners while we are abroad."

During his extensive travels, Dr. Furbay films the life and customs of the people he visits. His unusual documentaries have been shown before the American Museum of Natural History, New York's Town Hall, the Royal Geographic Society of London, and many other leading institutions. He is a Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society, the Royal Anthropological Society, and the National Geographic Society.

Dr. John H. Furbay, leading explorer, educator and author, will speak here at graduation. A visiting lecturer at many colleges and universities, and a constant speaker before professional clubs and geographical societies, Dr. Furbay is well-known as director of TWA's far-flung Air World Education program devoted to interpreting our air world responsibilities.

His travels have taken him through Europe, Africa, the Hawaiian Islands, Central and South America, and the Middle and Far East. From each country he has brought back to America film and word documentaries of the life of the people and the scenic beauties

Murtha Winning Pitcher In Final Soph-Frosh Duel

The Freshmen were nipped by the Sophomores in intra-mural softball Monday, June 2, 28-6. Phil Murtha, winning pitcher, hurled shut-out ball for six innings with the losers scoring twice in the seventh and adding four more runs in the final frame.

An eight run outburst in the second inning actually won the game for the Sophs, but the winners crossed the plate ten more times in the fifth frame.

Ed Lesiak, with six hits, including a home run, paced the winner's thirty-five hit attack on six freshmen pitchers. The Sophs' airtight infield of Ryan, Lesiak, Rahill and Waugh proved instrumental in the Sophomore romp.

Kappa Delta Pi Officers

President—Edward Bresnahan
Vice-President—Barbara Peterson
Secretary—Loretta Vaz
Treasurer—Anthony Petrarca
Social Committee Chairman—Jane Redfern
Historian-Reporter—Julia Rogers

has been a member of the U. S. Delegation to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) meeting in Mexico City, Beirut, Paris, and Florence. Recently he has completed extensive projects, including documentary films in the Middle East, "Lands of the Arabian Nights."

Dr. John H. Furbay, who will speak here at graduation, has for years been tracking down the truth behind popular fallacies, superstitions and historical errors. His travels have taken him to many strange lands, where he has lived with the peoples, learned their customs and documented on film, their way of life.

Whether he is in Africa, Latin America, Arabia, Hawaii, or any other part of the globe, his main interest is people. He has found that people are fundamentally all alike, no matter where they live. This even holds true of cannibals. Dr. Furbay spent much time with several cannibal tribes in West Africa. He learned that they were a gentle and intelligent people, with beautiful traditions, well-ordered society and smooth family life. Although other civilizations can offer these primitive natives better health and medical care, he believes it doubtful that they have much to offer in the way of personal happiness. He conducted a series of intelligence tests with these natives, and found that although their customs and way of life differ greatly from ours, their basic intellect ranks with that of the civilized world.

As Director of Air World Education for TWA on four continents, Dr. Furbay has set himself the task of breaking down the barriers which have been set up mainly through our own ignorance of other people's philosophies of life. Mass travel on the part of Americans is certain for the air-age. The problem which faces every student of world affairs is "How can we neutralize the attitudes of intolerance and prejudice, and create travelers who will not offend their world neighbors who have been brought so close by the air-age?" Dr. Furbay says, "We must recognize that the standards by which we judge progress and superiority are not the standards used by others. Many nations whose scientific developments and mechanical achievements have not ascended to the heights of our own can teach us many valuable things about living. He urges that we develop a genuine appreciation of other peoples, their history, philosophy and contributions to world culture."

Where You
ALWAYS Shop
With Confidence

TOM'S
Coffee Shop

Hot Pepper Sandwiches

15c

COLLEGE BOOK STORE

- "T" Shirts with Seal
- Car Seals
- Sweat Shirts with Seal
- College Supplies
- Plastic Book Match Covers
- Kleenex
- Head Scarf with Seal
- Stamps
- Stationery
- Catchall Products

Dine at the

DREYFUS

121 Washington St.