of Education
Providence, Rhode Island

Foreword

“We look before and after
And pine for what is not:
Our sincerest laughter
With some pain is fraught;
Our sweetest songs are those
That tell of saddest thought.”

—SHELLEY

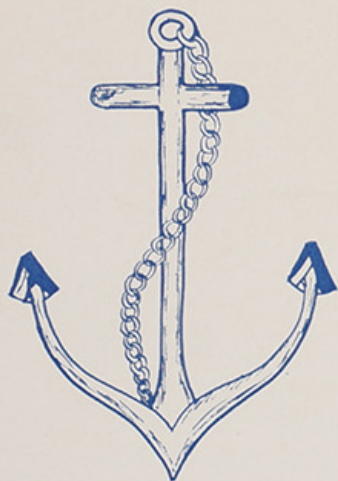

As we come to the close of our four years at Rhode Island College of Education, we look back with nostalgia; we look ahead with hope. We carry the essence of R.I.C.E. with us as we live our lives, here in familiar situations; far from here where all is new and strange. College memories, associations and influences provide us with a common bond which will unite the Class of 1955 through the years to come, and enable us to fulfill the expectations of our profession.

This yearbook can only touch the chords of the rich and varied experience we have had at R.I.C.E. . It remains for the reader to fill in the melody by evoking his own recollections, thereby supplying the notes that indicate his individual contributions to, and rewards from college life.

We, the Class of 1955

dedicate this Ricoled .

. . . to Our Parents

Under your guidance we have matured

Because of your example we have profited

Through your understanding we have prospered

By your encouragement we have succeeded . . .

Class History

September 8th, 1951 . . . We entered the doors of Rhode Island College of Education that day as individuals. We emerged that afternoon an embryonic class—the class of 1955. Many experiences combined to weld dissimilar, impressionable young individuals into unified, professional members of a college group. Let us recall some of those experiences . . .

First day strangeness . . . Books, advisors, complicated program cards, unfamiliar subjects . . . All-College Assembly . . . Clubs seeking new members . . . Freshman-week fun and hazing—we wore beanies and carried candy for hungry upperclassmen while they looked us over . . . singing the Alma Mater in the Caf upon the insistence of hard-hearted Sophs . . . these all are memories of our first week at college.

After the first week, events moved rapidly along until it was mid year before we realized it. Just during the first few months of our freshman year, we had changed. We had strengthened our common pattern of college life. Remember . . .

Emphasizing our class unity at freshman parties . . . meeting our junior brothers and sisters . . . gab fests in the third floor rec room . . . observing birthdays in the Caf with cakes, candles and singing . . . class meetings when we tried co-operation . . . Classes . . . struggling with math problems, history, Spanish, health notes from Smiley and Gould in the reserve library . . . sports—introduction to soccer for the men (a unique experience for some was catching passes through the snow)—gym—dressing in a rush, showering with haste, never quite making the next class on time . . . then exams and first reports with their unknown indexes . . . rehearsals for Stunt Night when the freshmen put on the "Walrus & Carpenter" . . . Christmas vacation and then mid year exams, these first formal exams for many caused desperate cramming.

Registration for the second semester, and the class of '55 began to feel as if it really belonged . . . Spring brought Song Contest when we sang the cheer song that we had written with pride—"We Are The Class of '55" . . . Conferences—Freshmen attended Little Eastern States Conference in Conn. and came back impressed with Willimantic's campus . . . the important conference with Miss Lee when we chose our courses . . . May Day festivities held indoors with the traditional freshman Maypole dance while the Maypole emulated the Leaning Tower of Pisa, dancing Russians, fairies, or mice . . . June . . . Seniors awed us with caps and gowns . . . our class picnic at Moonstone beach proved to be a memorable one . . . final tests were concluded and our freshman year was over.

When we returned in the fall and joyfully renewed friendships, we found a few people missing. In our new divisions we made new friends and came to know more of our classmates as we commenced our Sophomore year . . .

Choosing electives for the first time (even though we had to take last choice) . . . geography (remember those 26-page exams with their encouraging notes "Don't give up now, you're almost half way through.") . . . art, T & P notes, physical science, science fair exhibits, psychology, English literature and Classical Backgrounds (Who was Jupiter's grand aunt, anyway?)

On the social side there was the Sophomore Hop or Penthouse Party . . . tribulations of that decorating committee are amusing in retrospect, but at the time the committee couldn't imagine how they could transform a gym into a penthouse satisfactorily in eight hours and then arrive back with dance clothes and a date on time.

Sports captured attention too, as the WAA sponsored swimming and bike hostels, and the men of our class won the school basketball intra-mural crown.

In our sophomore year, remember . . .

Appearance of new president . . . Soph-Senior Party . . . Soph boys pledging to the fraternity and suffering pledge walks and initiation procedure . . .

electioneering when Eisenhower and Stevenson came to town . . . Stunt Night when the Anchor was lost in heaven . . . long hours in the physics lab for some . . . exams for all . . . reports . . . dances—the postponed All-College Ball, the Christmas Cotillion . . . plays—"The Curious Savage" . . . and then another year of college had passed.

The frightening feeling before our first lesson at Barnard returns as we recall our Junior year. Overnight high heels and nylons, suit coats and ties replaced beat up loafers and bobby sox, and RICE sweatshirts and sneakers. "Look professional" we playfully exhorted each other. That fearful first day of practice teaching was surmounted and we discovered (most of us) that we enjoyed teaching and might even become good at it in time.

When the RICE team won a basketball game that year, Mr. Brown shaved off his moustache true to his promise. Our class won the intra-mural championship again.

We remember, too, newspaper headlines telling of the development of the hydrogen bomb.

Part of our junior year was the pressure of nine art plates a week for elementary people . . . American history for some . . . history and philosophy of education . . . economics . . . Stunt Night when Riceans visited an opium den . . . butterflies in our stomachs heralded Responsible Teaching . . . our class split up and class meetings had to be held at night . . . Junior Prom at Agawam Hunt Club proved to be the most exciting social event of our college lives thus far . . . May Day picnics at Lincoln Woods . . . Junior Banquet at Oates Tavern . . . Commencement exercises bringing the realization that our turn was next . . . then, Vacation!

With the class still split from September 1954 to February 1955, the awareness of actually being Seniors was not deeply felt, but many minor occasions served to remind us . . .

The strange faces of new freshmen and faculty members . . . upper class registration, and first choice of electives at last . . . senior subjects like sociology, tests and measurements . . . student council president one of our classmates . . . second place in Stunt Night when we put on "Shades of Shakspeare" with an adaptation of Macbeth . . . the "Anchor Class" . . . planning and working on our yearbook . . . the Bond issue when we all—Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen banded together to convince the voters of Rhode Island that R.I.C.E. needed new improved facilities by wearing sandwich boards on Westminster Street, participating in a motor cavalcade advertising our college, radio and T.V. programming . . . and the exultation of knowing that the bond issue had passed and the big rally when the faculty served refreshments to the Student Body . . . Curriculum study begun, our advice asked . . . Kappa Delta Phi's Christmas party for children (their wide eyes brought the meaning of Christmas closer) vacation . . . our last two-hour exams . . . the first semester had flown by and it was 1955, our graduating year.

February 3, 1955 . . . We re-entered R.I.C.E. to register for the final semester . . . Reunited at the Senior Breakfast, we animatedly reviewed our training experiences, discussed the foibles of critic teachers, and spoke proudly of "my students" . . . in the routine of classes, tests, and activities, we hardly felt the year slipping past . . . Senior Informal . . . Faculty Tea for Seniors . . . Soph-Senior Party . . . Alumni Tea . . . applying for positions in the school systems of the state, being interviewed, seeing superintendents . . .

May Day with a Senior queen and court . . . the Fortune Teller by Victor Herbert put on by the Choir and Dramatic League . . . Cap and Gown Day when we were invested with the dignity of black robes and mortarboards . . . feeling sincerely like graduates for the first time . . . Cap and Gown Dance . . . Vespers when our parents were invited . . . Commencement Ball . . . Class Day . . . and Commencement—the end of our undergraduate education, but the beginning of our professional usefulness.

Class Ode

A Sacred Word

I.

The poet's address

You! inheritors of this day and the one that is not yet—you'll have me say the truth?
You and time have met.
Bequeathing * * * hand uncurl the legacy.

II.

The legacy

For you no pastel day
Watch! a soulless atom hurl minute the matter
vast the space
To more minuteness shatter.
Cast this place.
* * *
For you a no-time
A white and blinding mushroom colored by the day's spilled blood
A black black headline.
* * *
Run in this maze
Circle in your fright
Inert your days
Morningless this night.
* * *
Splintered glass
Powdered stone
Blackened grass
Aging bone.
This be the residuum?

III.

The voices reply

You think—
We'll sit in lethargy
to waste in mere frailty
and mourn our age's death?
You nursed our breath!
Your hymn! Our faith
Quick! read your psalm.

IV.

The psalm

I will declare the decree:
The Lord hath said unto me . . .
This day have I begotten thee.
* * *
There is no ultimacy to things
His truth be the will
Be wise now therefore
O ye kings:
Be instructed, ye judges of the earth.
This legacy was made at Birth.

The voices reply

We heard and now we promise
Instead of formless stone
The soul be spirit of the bone.
Sacred our possession
on this day
Careful our discretion
now we pray
This be the continuum.

Class Will

The time came too soon to write this last will,
College days are over at R.I.C.E. on the hill,
We look back and remember each fault that we had
We've tried to correct them and make you feel glad
By leaving you all kinds of people and such Occasionally we've added a humorous touch
The needs of dear R.I.C.E. we wish to fulfill Such is the purpose of this . . . our last will.

- Mr. Gaige*—A curriculum that never needs revision,
Embodied with every needed provision.
- Mr. Donovan*—White-collar student with jacket and tie,
Who'll be the apple of everyone's eye.
- Miss Connor*—College people filled with charm,
Who never give her cause for alarm.
- Miss Lee*—A portable critic in every town,
So responsible teachers won't be shifted around.
- Miss Thorp*—A new building for Barnard carefully planned,
To serve as a model throughout the land.
- Miss Carlson*—A machine to help in her job so complex,
Of compiling, when needed, a student's index.
- Miss McGunigle*—Students who always sing on key,
When teaching "Red-Bird in the Tree."
- Miss Davey*—An hour a day to shine on T.V.,
Singing the praises of R.I.C.E.
- Mrs. Allendorf*—A May Day dawning bright and clear,
With ample funds to spend each year.
- Mr. Allison*—Discerning students who can define,
The farthest reaches of the human mind.
- Mr. Aloia*—A soap-box to stand on during class—
A test that even the Seniors can pass.
- Mrs. Becker*—Students who are able to tell at a glance,
The works of the masters created in France.
- Miss Bicho*—A class who can perform the feat,
Of keeping up with Bicho's beat.
- Mr. Brown*—A student body overloaded with men,
Who can win those games again and again.
- Miss Burrill*—Future Martha Grahams with non-cracking joints.
Who in leaps and tours show their fine points.
- Miss Campbell*—Students whose vocabulary is succinct and eclectic,
Whose devices and responses are never hectic.
- Miss Cuzner*—A modern library that is complete,
With book-wrappers, muzzles and quiet feet.
- Mr. Ethier*—A forest primeval with berries and ferns,
To make his bouquets in decorative urns.
- Mr. Danilowicz*—An electric eye to inspect and splice,
The broken films that return to R.I.C.E.
- Mr. Greene*—The class who knows what time it was,
When Shakespeare shaved off all his fuzz.
- Mr. Hartup*—A verifiable, reliable test of I.Q.,
That measures what it's supposed to do.
- Miss Healey*—People who speak up loud and clear,
Never showing their innate fear.
- Mr. Hovan*—Democracies, industries and unions replete,
With intelligent people in the driver's seat.
- Miss Keffe*—A freshman class for whom there is hope,
For learning the use of the microscope.
- Miss Keenan*—A workable, practical lie-detector,
For medical excuses that she's suspect of.
- Mr. Leonelli*—A miniature world in its galaxy,
To use in teaching astronomy.
- Miss Loughrey*—A wind-mill complete with Sancho Panza,
With Don Quixote in the 2nd stanza.
- Mr. McEntee*—One hundred copies of his book to use,
For his R. I. Law class to peruse.
- Mr. Meinhold*—A plan for a building so compact and neat,
With "profs" agreeing it can't be beat.
- Mr. Mitchell*—Freshman to compute the speed of a ball,
When thrown in a wind from a 50 foot wall.
- Miss Nelson*—Twenty-four weekends of skiing in Stowe,
With excellent weather and ten feet of snow.
- Mrs. Preisser*—Writers whose essays are never trite,
Who read the New Yorker and Times every night.
- Miss Scott*—A bell-shaped curve with perfect distribution,
With the students all making their contribution.
- Miss Snell*—Unlimited copies of each reserve book,
Plus a sound proof, comfortable reading nook.
- Miss Steere*—People who are willing to wait in line,
Who don't want their books out ahead of time.
- Miss Thompson*—Sensitive, aesthetic minds that are clear,
Lovers of Whitman, Thoreau and Lanier.
- Mr. Underhill*—Ski-club members with superlative skill,
To enable them safely to schuss a hill.
- Mr. Waite*—A commencement line with even-marked spaces,
For faculty members to find their places.
- Miss Wright*—Last but not least we leave you the most,
A rocket to travel from coast to coast.
- To the Undergraduates . . .
- Juniors*
We will you the wisdom, strength and foresight to realize, appreciate and treasure your senior year to the fullest. Seize your last opportunity to be the kind of a student, teacher and person you wish to be.
- Sophomores*
To our sister class we will the fond memories, pleasant associations and warm friendships we have experienced here at the college with two more wonderful years filled with promise and fulfillment.
- Freshmen*
We will you the culmination of many years of hoping, planning, and working . . . the new building.
Live in it—work in it . . . appreciate it and be worthy of it.

Junior Class History

It was a large freshman class that entered R.I.C.E. that September day in 1952, with the usual look of bewilderment on their faces. A week later these same looks were replaced by the harassed smiles of hazed freshmen as our sister junior class undertook her new duties with a vengeance. Of course it was not long before each of us felt we were truly a part of our new college life. We redeemed our defeat in our first stunt attempt by capturing second place in the last of the annual song contests. The rest of our freshman year passed rather uneventfully. It was not until our Sophomore year that our class began to shine. The oscar winning "stalag 17" of Hollywood U.S.A. was followed up by the Anchor point winning "Lagstag 71"—R.I.C.E.-U.S.A. Soft lights, park benches and flowers transformed our school auditorium into a lovely setting for our Soph Hop—a memorable highlight in the life of each sophomore. We now found ourselves in two new positions of importance—one being our capacity of sister class to the new bewildered freshmen; the other being the departure of half of our class to Henry Barnard and to the "other side of the desk." Christmas, 1954, found us again in the throes of stunt night preparations, and in middle January '55 we finally succeeded in attaining the long awaited goal of first place in Stunt Night with our ballet operatic presentation of "Little Green Riding Hood." In February half of our class said goodbye to college days for awhile, as they left for schools throughout the state. April 29th brought dancing shoes, fluffy gowns, flowers, programs. Gaiety reigned at the close of our junior year, but we look forward with seriousness to our last year at the college.

Sophomore History

In September of 1953 one hundred and sixty eager Freshmen entered the portals of R.I.C.E. for the first time. After having become acquainted with their classmates the class elected the following officers:

President.....Donald Clark
Vice President.....Evelyn Farrell
Secretary.....Irving Williams
Treasurer.....Lois Hayman
Student Council Representatives.....Ben Winsor,
Peter Morley, Everett Maxwell

It was an election that few Riceans will be able to forget for the college campaign headquarters for eager candidates whose slogans and posters covered the college walls.

Among the outstanding achievements of the Freshman year were the Stunt Night Program "A Slice of the New R.I.C.E." and the traditional Freshmen dancers for the May Day Celebration.

During the fall of 1954 the Class of '57, in the midst of the Hurricane Season, returned to the College. The class officers for the year were:

President.....Evelyn Farrell
Vice President.....Douglas Pinto
Secretary.....Irving Williams
Treasurer.....Barbara Tomei
Student Council Representatives.....Louise Hassan, Arthur Bergeron, Ben Winsor, Natalie DiPonte
Social Committee Co-Chairmen.....Nancy Ogg, Everett Maxwell

During the months of September, October, and November, the Class took an active part in the Bond Issue Campaign. Together with other classes and faculty members, the Sophomores volunteered to pass out pamphlets, make posters and serve as sandwich men in order to promote the college cause.

In November the Class sponsored their first semi-formal, the Sophomore Hop. The dance was a tremendous success with three-quarters of the Sophomore Class in attendance. The theme for the dance was "Blue Moon" and the favors were paddles for the Class of '57 to paddle on to new adventures and successes both socially and scholastically.

In January the Class attempted to win first place in the Stunt Night Competition by presenting their version of "This is Your Life."

The Class of '57 has spirit for originality and accomplishment. Through participation in extra curricular activities, the class hopes to obtain the title of Anchor Class.

Freshman History

On September 10, 1954 the class of 1958 passed through the portals of Rhode Island College of Education. A bewildered group they were, becoming more bewildered after a meeting with the junior class. At this meeting the freshmen were welcomed to R.I.C.E. They were also presented with a set of hard, fast rules that had to be observed for a period of one week.

Each member of the class became a marked person. They presented a sorry sight as they made their way through the halls of learning dressed in blue and white attire, wearing huge placards with their names inscribed upon them and burdened further with books and a common red brick to be visible at all times. Those among us who foolishly did not take hazing seriously were called before a junior court which imposed penalties proportionate to the degree of non-conformity to the rules.

By the end of the week most of the freshmen were arm-weary and sad. This attitude, however, was changed by a lively party tendered our class by the juniors. Those among us who thought that the juniors were not human soon changed our minds after the highly successful party.

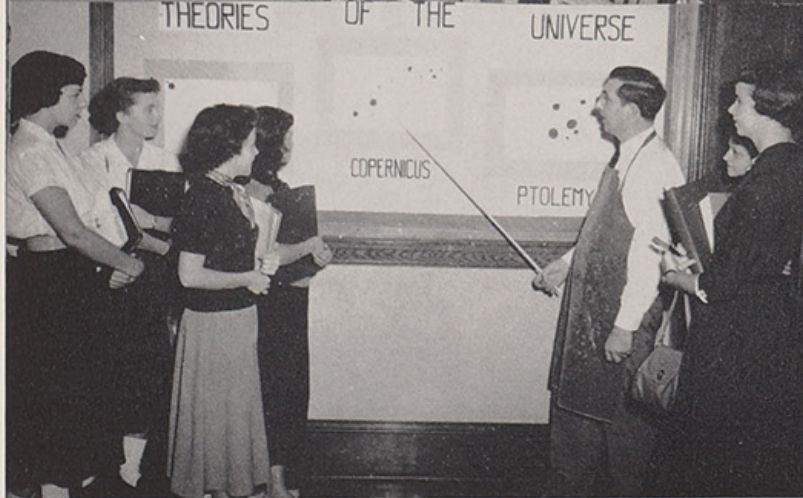

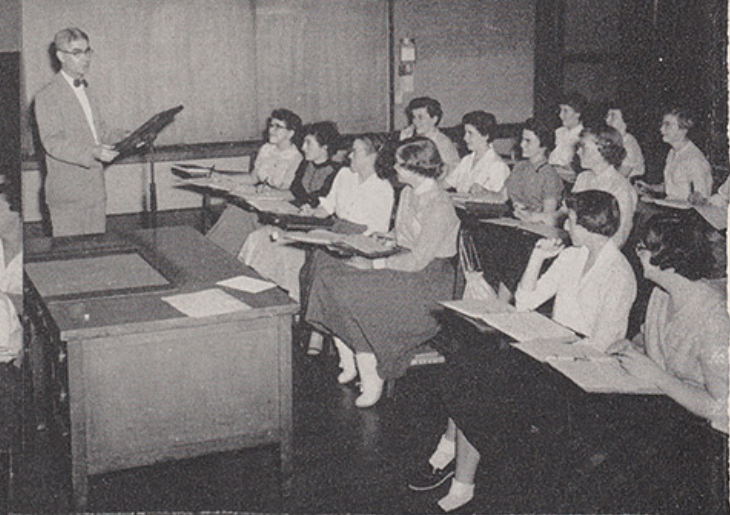

The class of '58 settled down to a regular routine of college work. R.I.C.E. offers a well rounded program of social events as well. Every week we were invited to visit clubs and to join them. The freshmen responded happily.

Stunt Night at Rhode Island College of Education is always full of fun and much anticipated. The freshman class presented their version of a full fledged carnival. Bedlam prevailed as barkers shouted their lines. The midway was headed by a kissing booth, gambling wheels, stuffed animals, the fat woman, wooden soldiers and the bearded lady who was getting a demonstration on how to shave from a representative of the Gittelle Safety Razor Company. The carnival ended with a huge parade. Our presentation did not win a prize but it will long be remembered for the many joys we had in preparing our version of a carnival.

Several members of our class excel at sports and their contribution will be felt especially in the basketball squad.

The class of 1958 is proud to be attending R.I.C.E. and looks forward to the following years with a warm feeling that comes from the spirit with which we have been received and welcomed at Rhode Island College of Education.

Dramatic League

This year's two major productions of the Dramatic League, Mu Rho Cast Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, were Kind Lady and Good-Bye, My Fancy. Under the able direction of Miss Grace D. Healey, League Director, these as well as past presentations were acclaimed by all who attended. Letters from the president were sent to incoming Freshmen. The opportunity for them to join was at the Presentation of Opening Night. A new addition to our stage was the medium: Theatre-In-The-Round. Workshop productions have been presented at meetings. The reason for these productions is to give experience to all students and to act as an incentive to trying out for main plays.

A goal worth working for is the Rico-Actors Award presented each June to members who have fulfilled League qualifications. During the Christmas Season, gift packages are sent to former male members who are in the service.

Alpha Psi Omega

The League for the past two years has been the Mu Rho Cast chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, a National Dramatic Honor Fraternity. To be eligible for membership in this group a student must earn fifty points while a member of the regular Dramatic League. Points are awarded for holding offices, for acting, and for working behind the scenes in the plays. On Class Day the members of Alpha Psi Omega are given Rico-Actors awards in recognition of their work.

The International

The International Relations Club is open to all students at the college. Its main purpose is to acquaint students with current affairs and problems of students in other countries. The speakers at the meetings during the year include foreign students, exchange teachers and others who are well informed on current events. At other meetings, movies or slides on other lands are shown.

This year at an Assembly during United Nations week the I.R.C. presented Josephine Schain, who is now an Assistant Secretary Treasurer of the U.S. Committee for U.N.I.C.E.F.

The I.R.C. and the F.T.A. conducted a joint meeting open to all. Miss Rebecca Ely, advisor to students activities at Pembroke College, spoke on the needs of all students today and showed slides of her recent trip to India.

The I.R.C. Banquet held in April wound up the activities of the club for the year.

They say that talk is cheap, but not so in Delta Sigma, the Debating society at R.I.C.E. When people debate, the arguments pro and con must be backed by proof, written evidence, and logical thinking, and the members of Delta Sigma recognize this fact. Regular meetings are held bi-monthly on the second and fourth Tuesday. Beside ordinary business matter, practice debates, and analysis of subject matter are also handled during a meeting. Since Delta Sigma is a recent addition to the extra-curricular activities at R.I.C.E., no inter-collegiate schedule has been planned, but outside debates will be favored in the future. Although Delta Sigma lacks heritage in years, it does not lack an enthusiasm and vigor on the part of its members who feel that discussion and debate on current issues aids in the intellectual and social growth of the student and future teacher. Miss Healey is our faculty advisor.

Who's Who Among Students In American Colleges and Universities

Seated: E. Ryan, R. Coelho, N. McIntosh
Standing: P. O'Dea, B. Manish, V. Gregory, S. Szarko

Each year the junior and senior classes elect a few students who have made outstanding contributions to the college to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

A biography of each new member is published in the annual publication of America's leading college students.

The organization has a dual purpose: a public listing of outstanding college students for incentive-reward benefits, and an employment reference service.

To be chosen a member of this national society is to achieve one of the highest distinctions at R.I.C.E.

First row, left to right: R. Brochu, V. Cullen, R. Blais (Capt.), D. Steele, J. Veader, E. Maxwell
 Second row: R. Brassard, J. Kean, R. Coelho, R. Viera, A. Polouski, R. Brown (Coach).

Basketball Team

The opening of the 1954-55 basketball season showed R.I.C.E. to possess a small but spirited ball club. Through the efforts of Coach Robert Brown, the boys were molded into a smooth working quintet, endowed with speed but lacking the necessary height for a very successful season.

Sharpshooting Roland Blais, phenomenal high scorer who totaled more than 1,000 points in his three years of varsity competition, was elected captain of the 1955 team. Despite the fine performances of Captain Blais, the team started off slowly. During this time, the boys acquired the experience they needed. This experience showed itself when R.I.C.E. upset the highriding Willimantic Teachers five, 89-79. Standouts in this game were Blais and Vin Cullen, who scored 35 and 19 points respectively, and Roger Viera and Bob Coelho, who consistently took rebounds away from much taller opponents. After a short slump, R.I.C.E. again hit the victory trail by trouncing North Adams, 91-68. A trip to Fitchburg snapped the victory string as the home team eked out an exciting 64-62 win over R.I.C.E. Losses to the powerful New Britain and Salem quintets closed out the season. Despite the won-and-lost record of the team, they gave a very creditable performance.

The seniors of this team were headed by Roland Blais. Vinnie Cullen was the third leading scorer, setting up many scores with his passing and playmaking. Bob Coelho was the third senior and proved to be a tremendous rebounder. A great loss to the team was that of Bob Coker near the beginning of the season.

The junior aggregation supplied the team with Roger Viera. Using his height to advantage, Roger cleared the backboards, and was second top scorer. Jack Kean proved to be an able back court man, while Dick Brassard showed considerable prowess as a driving forward. Dave Steele's efficiency was hampered throughout the season by a broken hand.

The sophomores on the team supplied a strong reserve on which the team could rely. Those acquiring considerable experience were Don Verissimo, Andy Polouski, Dick Brochu, Ev Maxwell, and John Veader.

Through the achievements of all these players and the guidance of Coach Brown, R.I.C.E. proved to be a formidable foe for all its opposition.

Bob Coelho tries for two points in typical Coelho style.

Clearing the boards successfully is Dick Brassard.

Roger Viera adds another field goal to R.I.C.E.'s score.

Vinnie Cullen boots the ball towards the Keene goal.

A. Polowski, J. Genereux, and R. Tetreault take a short breather.

High scorer, Doug Pinto, dribbles through Keene opponents.

First row, left to right: J. Pantalone, J. Heslin, R. Tetreault, V. Cullen, J. Genereux, D. Steele, R. Brochu, T. Burke.
 Second row: R. Brown (Coach), J. Kalinowski, A. Bergeron, J. Veader, R. Brassard, R. Heslin, E. Maxwell, A. Polouski, J. Hagan.

Soccer Team

The Rhode Island College of Education soccer team of 1954 was the greatest in the school's history. Starting slowly, it picked up the pace in mid-season and ended with a flying finish. Because of this slow start, the team was edged out for the championship by the slim margin of one point by a strong Bridgewater eleven.

At the beginning of the season the team picked Joe Genereux, and Vinnie Cullen to lead them through the season as co-captains. Both Genereux, probably the best defensive back in the league, and Cullen, an excellent wing, were four year starters.

Probably the outstanding games of the year were the 2-2 tie with Keene, N. H., the 1-1 tie with Bridgewater, and the 3-2 victory of Fitchburg, Mass.

Hero of the Fitchburg victory was soph star Doug Pinto, who scored all three goals. Pinto was the league's leading goal-getter. A last half rally by Fitchburg was stopped by the fine efforts of Genereux, Roger Viera, Dave Steele, Don Verissimo, and Ev Maxwell. Not to go without mention is John Veader, the impregnable goalie.

The best performance of any R.I.C.E. team was given in Bridgewater, home of the league champion. The champs were out to avenge the only mar on their record, that being a previous tie with R.I.C.E. The game was played in driving rain and mud, before a fairly good sized crowd. John Heslin sent R.I.C.E. into the lead early in the first period with his first goal. R.I.C.E. fought feverishly to protect its slim lead and was successful until late in the fourth quarter, when Bridgewater's captain scored on a penalty kick, sending its rain soaked fans into a merry frenzy. The game went into overtime.

Heslin again sent R.I.C.E. into the lead with his second goal of the day. Coach Brown's boys thwarted the attempts of Bridgewater to tie the score until time ran out.

Again playing a standout defensive game were Genereux, Steele, Viera, Verissimo, Maxwell, and Veader. Sparking the line were Pinto and Cullen, who were aided invaluablely by Dick Brassard, Jerry Pantalone, and Roland Blais. Others who played a good game were Tom Burke, Dick Brochu, Andy Polouski, Dick Heslin, John Hagan, Bob Tetreault, and Joe Kalinowski. Altogether it was a fine team effort. One of which R.I.C.E. can be proud.

Playing their last game for R.I.C.E. this year were Co-captains Cullen and Genereux, Roland Blais, a clever center, and John Hagan, a veteran lineman.

Men's Athletic Association

The Men's Athletic Association is the organization that sponsors all the athletic programs for the men of the college. Under the direction of Professor Robert L. Brown, the MAA promotes the inter-collegiate competition of the soccer team during the fall season and the basketball team during the winter. It is also the originator of the Intramural Basketball League. The teams in this league are organized according to classes, each fielding a team. Since the formation of this league two years ago, the class of 1955 has been the champion of the league.

By sponsoring other athletic tournaments and events throughout the year, the MAA is of great influence in creating a good school spirit at the college.

The main topic of the conference was The Teaching Profession — Attractions for Students and Graduates. Each group discussed a phase of the subject, and shared its conclusion with other groups. Student delegates from R.I.C.E. were Pat O'Dea, Marguerite Robinson, Anne Cassidy, Betsy Conlon, Nancy McIntosh, Margie Riley, Pat Dunphy, Pat Dalton and Rosaleen Montsaris.

A New Building for a New Century

On November 2, the voters of Rhode Island approved the $3,500,000 bond issue to finance the new Rhode Island College of Education building.

The referendum campaign opened with a rally at the College October 9. It gained momentum as faculty, students and alumni:

- fastened 5,000 bumper strips to cars throughout the state,
- delivered 140 talks,
- mailed 1,500 letters,
- distributed 15,000 calendar cards,

- set up a display in Union Station,

- made and distributed 400 posters,

- formed an eleven-car motorcade,

- wore sandwich boards,

- passed out 15,000 flyers,

- made one telecast and thirteen broadcasts,

- painted a 15 x 20 ft. sign, "Vote for R.I.C.E.",

- secured public endorsement from political parties, and from organizations and leaders in all fields.

On November 3, the hard-fought campaign was ended with a Victory Assembly at the College.

Acknowledgments

With these most inadequate words it is my wish to publicly thank those who have been closely associated with the 1955 RICOLED. To these people, the student body in general, and I, in particular, owe a debt of gratitude:

Miss Patricia O'Dea, earnest of effort and diligent of purpose, who served as make-up editor,

The many members of the RICOLED Staff, who were so generous with their time and efforts,

Mr. Ralph Millspaugh and the photographers of Loring's Studio, who photographed us endlessly,

Mr. Edward Davidson, who patiently guided us through a maze of glossies and montages,

Mr. Edward Flanagan, whose assistance was invaluable,

The Administration and the cooperative faculty,

Those who advertised with us in this edition.

What's the meaning of this?

These queer shapes are halftone dots picked at random from a plate and greatly magnified. Seemingly insignificant, these microscopic dots are the prime concern of photo-engravers.

Their perfection is assured with Barbett engravings.

We Salute You!

Congratulations and the best of luck! We at Loring are proud of the part we have had in helping to make your classbook a permanent reminder of your school years, recording with photographs one of the happiest and most exciting times of your life! We hope that, just as you have chosen us as your class photographer, you will continue to think of Loring Studios when you want photographs to help you remember other momentous days to come! When you choose Loring portraits, you are sure of the finest craftsmanship at the most moderate prices!
